KHARTOUM (R) - Presidents Jasfar Numeiri of Sudan and and Hosni Mubarak of Egypt Tuesday signed a political and economic integration charter cementing further the ties between their countries. The charter, described by officials as a giant step towards pooling the two countries' resources, replaces an agreement on the same lines signed by President Numeri and the late President Anwar Sadat in 1974. It calls for the establishment of a supreme integration council chaired by the two heads of state and a fund to finance joint ventures.

Al Najah University fails to open

JERUSALEM (R) — One of the Israeli-occupied West Bank's three universities failed to open for the new academic year Tuesday due to the departure of lecturers under Israeli-political pressure, Arah sources said. The sources said Al Najah University in Nablus, the biggest Palestinian town in the West Bank, remained closed after 14 lecturers, including the vice-president, left the area. The Israeli authorities had refused to extend the nonresident visas held by the lecturers unless they signed an undertaking not to support the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO), the sources added.

Volume 7 Number 2085

AMMAN, WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 13, 1982 — DHUL HIJJA 26, 1402

Price: Jordan 100 fils; Syria 1 pound; Lebanon 1 pound; Saudi Arabia 1.50 riyals; UAE 1.50 dirbams; Great Britain 25 pence

PLO weekly magazine resumes publication

NICOSIA (R) - The Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) weekly magazine Filistin Al-Thawra (Palestine Revolution). which used to appear in Beirut, resumed publication in Cyprus Tuesday. The 427th edition of the magazine was the first since the PLO leadership and thousands of its fighters were evacuated from Israeli-besieged west Beirut six weeks ago. An editorial in the magazine said the PLO's defence of west Beirut had been both a military and a political success. The magazine said the PLO had to use all Arab land as a base for recovering Palestine, which was an Arah responsibility. Closing Arah horders to the PLO "only serves the Zionist enemy," it said.

Turkey, Iraq sign new agreement on oil pipelines

ANKARA (R) — Turkey and Iraq have agreed a plan to increase the capacity of an oil pipeline linking the two countries, which is at present Iraq's only pipeline outlet to the Mediterranean, a senior oil industry official said Tuesday. Ismail Kafescioglu, chairman of the State Petroleum Company TPAO, told Reuters that Iraq was prepared to finance a scheme to raise the pipeline's maximum capacity from 35 million tonnes to 49 million tonnes a year. This would involve building five pumping stations and 80 kilometres of additional pipe along the link which runs from Kirkuk, Iraq, to Iskenderun in south-eastern Turkey. Mr. Kafescioglu saki. Iraq's other pipeline link to the Mednerranean, through the Syrian port of Baniyas, was closed early this year because of dist ween the two countries.

Israelis detain 3 for possessing bombs

HEBRON, West Bank (R) -Three members of an ultranationalist Jewish community near this Palestinian town were letained during the night on suspicion of possessing explosives, heir families said Tuesday. One of them was identified as former head of the Kiryat Arba Council. Ciryat Arba, a modernistic towship in the hills above Hebron, is he largest Jewish community in he Israeli-occupied West Bank. he area has been one of the main Vest Bank trouble-spots with frejuent clashes between local Arabs nd Jewish settlers.

italian, U.S. irms sign $66m contract

EDDAH (R) — Sadelmi Cogepi of Italy and the American firm. General Electric have signed a 666 million contract for building hree engine test facilities in Saudi Arabia for F-15 fighter jets the ingdom is buying from the U.S., Jeneral Electric said in a staement-Tuesday. The facilities, to e located at military bases in Dhahran, Taif and Khamis Museit, are being huilt for the U.S. orps of engineers. The contruction is expected to take 18

Hot meal for U.S. Marines

WASHINGTON (R) — Three housand Hamburgers complete with pickles and relish were airifted to American Marines in ebanon Tuesday after the shock lisclosure that they hadn't had a ot meal in two weeks. National vide stung, and Ohio company onated the hamburgers after eports from the Middle East troble spot revealed that while rench peacekeeping troops were tining on gourmet meals with rine of their choice the Ameicans were eating out of cans. 'entagon spokesman Henry Catto dmitted the gastronomic setback t a press briefing Tuesday, but lamed the Marines, who said here had been delays in setting up ield kitchens.

NCC cables

Hussein, Saddam AMMAN (Petra) — National Consultative Council (NCC) Speaker Suleiman Arar sent a cable to

His Majesty King Hussein expressing his appreciation and that of the NCC members for the royal decree granting amnesty to those who committed security offences The cable said: "The council.

sees in Your Majesty's kind gesture a manifestation of deep insight and kind-heartedness characteristic of Your Majesty's affection for your people. "The royal gesture will strengthen the brotherly ties and solidarity in the life of our one family," the cable added.

Mr. Arar also sent a cable to Iraqi President Saddam Hussein hailing in his own name and on behalf of the NCC members the Iraqi army who are fighting an honourable battle in defence of Arah land, honour, dignity and sovereignty in order to eliminate the dangers posed to the Gulf, its aters and wealth.

The cahle also expresses appreciation of President Saddam's efforts to end the war by peaceful means and voiced the NCC support of the efforts made by Jordan under the leadership of His Majety King Hussein to implement its pan-Arah commitment towards Iraq according to the joint Arab defence agreement.

Lebanon defends mass detentions

BEIRUT (R) - Lehanon's government took action Tuesday to try to counter criticism within the country and abroad over the massive security sweeps mounted by the Lebanese army in west Beirut. President Amin Gemayel, who has been in office less than three weeks, held a series of meetings at the army's Beirut headquarters while Prime Minister Shafiq Al-Wazzan beld talks with justice officials and the department in charge of Palestinian refugee aff-

The radio station of Mr. Gemayel's Falangist Party indicated that the President had tackled the two aspects of the security sweeps that have provoked most controversy: The army's treatment of suspects and its failure to take any action in east Beirut, where rightist Christian militias still operate unchecked.

The radio said Mr. Gemayel had emphasised that "any citizen should present official complaints to the military prosecutor's office so they can he investigated".

It added that had issued orders to the army to speed up its deployment in "greater Beirut", implying that it should start taking control of east Beirut as well as the western sector.

On Tuesday, for the first time in a week, the army mounted no major search operation in west Beirut.

There were several reports of ill-treatment of people as they were arrested and while they were m detention. Palestinians who had been released spoke of beatings by guards and of being crowded in uncomfortable cells with little food.

There were also reports of arrests by men in plain clothes, unsettling Palestinian refugees who are still living in the shadow of the massacre of more than 300 civilians in two refugee camps by rightist militiamen last month.

The treatment of suspects provoked the concern of France, Italy and the United States, the three nations providing troops for the international peace force in Bei-

Diplomats said ambassadors of the three countries raised the issue of arrests by men in plain clothes with Mr. Gemayel Monday. In the evening, local radios carried an announcement from the internal security forces that police had been ordered not to enter refugee camps except in uniform.

The diplomats said the army had also told the French amhassador he was free to visit det-They also say President Gemayel is eager to see the rightist militias, including those of his own party, removed from east Beirut. But they say he faces formidable problems because although a son of the Falangist Party's founder he has had little to do with the military wing of the

The Falangist militias and the other rightist armed groups were commanded by his younger hrother Bashir, who would have become president bul was assassinated last month.

Syria releases prisoners

Syria has released nine members of the Lehanese Falangist Party whom it has been holding prisoner, some since 1978, the party's newspaper, Al-Amal, said

Tuesday. Al-Amai reported that the nine men, including a senior Falangist military official, were taken from prison in Syria Monday and driven m Syrian army vehicles to the mountains east of Beirut where they were set free.

The releases appeared to indicate a significant improvement in relations between the Falangists and Syria.

Although the Falangists, a predominantly right-wing Christian Party, initially welcomed Syria's interventioo in the Lehanese civil war in 1976, they quickly came to regard Syrian troops as an army of

Arafat says accord is in progress would follow up the results of the talks. He added that this committee is already in existence,

apparently referring to the Joint

Jordanian-Palestinian Committee

for the Support of the Steadfastness of the Occupied Ter-

By Samira Kawar Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) Chairman Yasser Arafat said Tuesday that agreement in talks with His Majesty King Hussein had "definitely" been reached. He did not spell out what kind of agreement had been concluded, but he indicated that any final accord between Jordan and the PLO would have to be referred to the Palestine National Council (PNC).

Speaking at a press conference member follow-up committee before some 40 Arah and foreign journalists, Mr. Arafat said that the talks had been "very successful, constructive and positive" and had dealt with all topical subjects, including the results of the final agreement had been reached Fez Arah summit conference and the next moves of the seven-formed by the conference.

Asked whether agreements reached were such that they should be put before the PNC for ratification, Mr. Arafat said that "no yet, but that constructive progress had been achieved and that a ritories. The committee is co-chaired by Prime Minister Mudar Badran and Mr. Arafat. Mr. Arafai stressed the historical unity of the Jordanians and Palestinians and said that the proposal for a Jordanian-Palestinian federation had been a hasic elethe King. The Jordanian-Palestinian follow-up committee would continue to discuss this topic, he said. Referring to the U.S. plan for peace in the Middle East, Mr. Arafat said that he could see 'some positive elements" in it, but seven-member follow-up committee during its meeting at foreign minister's level, over which King Hassan of Morocco would preside, in Fezon Oct. 15, he said.

But, Mr. Arafat said, the Reagan plan ignores the basic legitimate and humanitarian rights of

(Continued on page 31

PLO demands protection for Palestinians in Lebanon

Syria says Israel broke ceasefire in Lebanon

DAMASCUS (R) - Syria acc- afterwards.

Liberation Organisation (PLO) Tuesday demanded from the Lebanese government, the Arah countries, the U.S., France. Italy and the United Nations "to shoulder ment of his extensive talks with their responsibilities towards proestablishments" in Lehanon.

declined to give more details on its people and take all necessary these elements. This subject measures to achieve that." would be discussed by the lecting Palestinian civilians and In a statement issued here Tuesday, the PLO executive committee also announced that the organisation "will be shouldering its own responsibility in protecting

AMMAN (J.T.) - The Palestine malists by PLO spokesman Mah

The statement was read to jouused Israel of breaking a ceasefire in eastern Lehanon Tuesday in an area close to the Syrian border and only 35 kilometres from Dam-

A military spokesman quoted

by the official Syrian news agency

SANA said Israeli forces opened fire with machine guns and tanks on Syrian positions in the area of Yanta, in the hills along the

The spokesman said Syrian forces had returned the fire to silence

the Israelis. The exchange lasted

Lebanese-Syrian border.

moud Labadi before PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat gave a press conference at the guest palace in Jahal Amman.

The PLO's executive committee had earlier Tuesday held a meeting to discuss "reports arriving from Lehanon on widespread arrests, detentions, 10rture and deportations carried out hy the Lebanese army inside the Palestinian refugee camps. Eight memhers, including Mr. Arafat, attended the meeting of the 15-

(In Israel, an Israeli army spokesman accused Syrian troops and Palestinian commandos of repeatedly violating the ceasefire in eastern Lehanon Tuesday . He per and rocket propelled grenade

The United States is at present leading diplomatic efforts to try to secure the withdrawal of all foreign forces--Israeli. Syrian and Palestinian--from Lehanon. Washington is confident this can be fire and shot back).

said Israeli forces came under sni-

Iraq says several positions recovered

Tuesday its troops, supported by aircraft and helicopters, recovered several positions in fierce hattles raging since Monday night on the Iranian border near Mandali, west of Baghdad.

A high command communique also said an Iraqi unit killed 48 Iranians in a separate attack in the central sector of the Gulf war front Monday night. The communique said the Iranians launched an assault near Mandali, about 110 kilometres from Baghdad, but this was rep-

The Iranians, who launched an offensive in the Mandali area earlier this month, were forced to retreat after suffering heavy losses and abandoning "some important positions which had been under their control for the past few days," it said.

It added that Iranian artillery

envoy Philip Hahib, Swedish disarmanent campaigner Alva Myrdal, and interned Polish union leader Lech Walesa are among 79 candidates for the 1982 Nobel

Peace Prize, Norwegian Nobel

Institute Director Jakoh Sverdrup

King Juan Carlos of Spain, the Swedish Humanist Ranul Wallenberg who disappeared in the Soviet Union after World War II

and Pope John Paul are also among the candidates for the coveted prize, which is to be announced Wednesday by the Norwegian Nobel Committee.

and wounding a number of civ-Meanwhile Iran's National News Agency reported Tuesday that Iranian forces killed or wounded 500 Iraqi soldiers after cru-shing three Iraqi counter-attacks in the central sector of the Gulf war front in the past 24 hours. 1RNA, in a report from the battle front, said two Iraqi brigades were involved in what it described as futile attacks during which shelled Mandali and two other horder towns, Khanagin and Zurbatiyah, damaging several houses

three Iraqi hattalions were rou-Eight Iraqi tanks were destroyed and some 100 Iraqis captured, it said, adding that Iranian forces remained in full control of strategic heights overlooking Iraqi had died in the fighting.

The peace prize this year consists of 1.25 million Swedish-crowns ($170,000), a gold medal and a diploma. They will be handed over at a ceremony com-memorating Alfred Nobel, Swedish industrialist and inventor of Dynamite, who founded the prizes

Among the candidates are 19 organisations. The international

Red Cross Committee received the prize in t9t7, 1944 and 1963.

however, that this year the prize would go to an individual because in 1981 it was awarded to the United Nations High Commission for Informed sources helieved,

Pope, Walesa, Habib named for 1982 Nobel Peace Prize

board of trustees

ree has been issued to appoint Mr. the last board's term.

territory. Tehran Radio said 17 Iranians

president of U of J AMMAN (Petra) - A royal dec-

Ahmad Al Lawzi, chief of the royal court, president of the University of Jordan board of trustees. This came after the end of

have been awarded.

The Nobel Committee has received over 100 letters from many countries demanding that the 1978 peace prize, jointly awarded to Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and the late Egyptian. President Anwar Sadat, be withdrawn from Mr. Begin because of the Israeli invasion of Lehanon and the massacre of Pal-

But Egil Aarvik, chairman of the committee, has made clear that under the rules it cannot wit-estinian refugees in Beirut.

bdraw a Nobel Award.

half an hour and was followed by a achieved soon but there have been further 90-minute duel shortly no public signs of a furn agreement Pym: Israeli invasion

CAIRO (R) - British Foreign Secretary Francis Pym Tuesday called on Israel to renounce its 'aggressive attitude" to Arah countries. Speaking at the end of a oneday visit to Egypt. Mr. Pym said the Israeli invasion of Lehanon had produced disastrous results. "It showed an aggressive attitude towards the Arab countries and I believe that needs to be altered," he told a press conference.

The foreign secretary said there was deep concern in Israel and among the Jewish communities in Britain and the United States over sraeli government actions. He deplored Israel's swift reiection of President Reagan's proposal for Palestinian selfgovernment in association with Jordan in the occupied West Bank and Gaza. "I hope wiser counsels will prevail," Mr. Pym said. Mr. Pym said the Reagan initiative provided a firm hasis for caused disastrous results pursuing the Middle East peace process.

During his talks here with President Hosni Mubarak, Foreign Minister Kamal Hasan Ali and Prime Minister Fuad Moheiddin, Mr. Pym said he found strong Egyptian support for the U.S. plan despite certain reservations.
The talks showed close identity of views between Egypt and Britam, Mr. Pym said.

He said Britain believed all options should be left open for the Palestinians including statehood. "The Palestinians themselves must decide," he told reporters.

The foreign secretary welcomed the current meeting in Amman between His Majesty King Hussein and Mr. Yasser Arafat, leader of the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO). He said the PLO had a definite role to play in the peace process.

Mr. Pym reiterated a call for mutual recognition between Israel

Iran claims guardianship of Gulf oil export said Tuesday if the export of its oil was ever halted, it would not allow any oil to be shipped from the the Gulf region.

Addressing the General Assembly, Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Vellayati said Iran was responsible for the security of the Persian Gulf and the Hormuz Strait", and would deal seriously with any measures aimed at disturbing tranquility or creating obstacles to the passage of ships.

He said Iran "will, with all its might, ensure the security of this waterway' on the hasis of international laws.

The Iranian minister said that those who "resorted to the conspiracy of imperialist news agencies' claiming that ships were not safe in the Gulf, would not be able to prevent Iran's oil export.

Dr. Vellayati said: "We are assured that if one day the export of Iranian oil is stopped, then no oil will be exported from the Persian

Dr. Vellayati, who spoke in Farsi with interpretation into English and the other official U.N. languages, also rejected what be

UNITED NATIONS (R) - Iran called propaganda by the "imperialist news agencies" that Iran was threatening the countries of

"We are for close and friendly relations, hased oo mutual respect, with all countries of the region. In the meantime, we declare that we, with all our might, will firmly deal with any conspiracy and aggression intended to confront and oppose the government of the Islamic Republic of Iran.' The minister had originally beeo scheduled to address the assembly late in the day, but instead asked to take the floor at the end of the morning meeting. A senior U.N. source said he had been told by the Iranians that this was partly for convenience, since Dr. Vellayati was due to meet Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar in the afternoon, hut also a question of security.

Earlier Tuesday three women opposed to the government of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini chained themselves to the Statue of Liberty in New York harbour to protest against Dr. Vellayati's appearance at the U.N.

Solidarity continues strike; government reinforces police force said Tuesday.

WARSAW (R) — Workers at the Lenin shipyard in Gdansk, cradle of the free trade union Solidarity, went on strike again Tuesday to protest against the banning of the union, official sources in Gdansk said.

The sources said the strike, which began Monday, resumed Tuesday at 6 a.m. when workers turned up for the first shift. Large forces of police cordooed off the shipyard as workers in protective helmets and red-and-white armbands picketed the hig metal gates, the sources said.

By noon, telex and telephone lines to the city, briefly reopened this morning, had been cut off again and there was no indicatioo what happened when the shift ended at 2 p.m.

Government spokesman Jerzy Urban told reporters in Warsaw that security forces used tear gas and water cannon in Gdansk Monday night in running fights with protesters who pulled up tram tracks to make harricades, smashed windows and lit bonfires in the streets. A banner declaring "solidarity will win" was Tuesday draped

above the Gdansk shipyard gates

and pictures of interned union leader Lech Walesa and Polish-horn Pope John Paul were hung on the gates, surrounded by flo-

Mr. Urban said seven other smaller places were affected by strikes in Gdansk Monday, including the harbour and three other shipyards. But he said only the Lenin yards were reported to be on strike Tuesday.

There have been no other reports of disturbances in Poland following the scrapping of Solidarity, which automatically followed the passing of new trade union legislation by the Sejm (parliament) on Friday.

The oew law allows unions independence from state administratioo and management control hut leaves open the possibility army of their domination by the ruling Communist Party. Strikes are permitted after an involved arbitration process.

Mr. Urban said the government was confident the bill would be well received by the majority of workers. He said the events in Gdansk proved only that "there is a group of workers who are unhappy about the renewal of unions in a different form-hut as of Tuesday their influence is not substantial." Mr. Urban said interned Solidarity leader Lech Walesa was not among 308 detainees whose release was announced Monday night. He said the release would leave just under 700 people in internment without trial.

Ustinov pledging support...

MOSCOW (R) - Soviet Defence hack to normal, but said this alone Minister Dmitry Ustinov Tuesday would not solve everything. assured Polaod's military leadership of the Soviet Union's full union law passed by the Polish support in its battle to control unr- parliament on Friday, the Bul-itary leader Wojciech Jaruzelski trade union movement in Poland. to mark the 39th anniversary of the founding of the modern Polish

"The Polish People's Republic as a state-member of the Warsaw Pact can be certain of the full support (of) and help from the Soviet Union," he added.

The message, which was published in the Soviet armed forces newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star), was couched in gen- plant level. eral terms and did not refer to recent developments in Poland. Diplomats who studied the appeared to be a gesture of political and moral support rather bership.

Press comments on ban

than offer of concrete aid.

VIENNA (R) — East Europe's official press Tuesday welcomed Poland's decision to ban the independent union Solidarity as a step towards getting the country

In its first comment on the trade st. garian union paper Troud said it Marshal Ustinov gave the assopened the road towards an orgurance in a message to Polish mil- anisational restoration of the > chestven Front called the law a new move against attempts by anti-Socialist forces to use the trade unioo movement as a hase to fight against popular rule. The Slovak Communist Party

The Bulgarian weekly Ote-

Polish party was to form a classhased. Socialist and unified trade union movement built up from The Hungarian Communist Party Organ Nepszabadsag said the law assured every honest wormessage said the pledge of help ker a place in oew unions, irrespective of former union mem-daily Pravda said the aim of the idarity in 1980 and used on many occasions until the union was suspended last December, has been severely limited under the new

The right to strike, won by sol-

New Reagan sanctions

WARSAW (R) - President Reagan's decision to suspend most favoured nation trading status for Poland will have a relatively small impact, put in the framework of Poland's total foreign trade, Wes-tern diplomats said Tuesday They said the measure would apply to only two thirds of Poland's exports to the United States-about ooe third consists of tinned meat and meat products which were not subject to concessions anyway.

Polish exports to the United States were between $100 and $110 million in the first six mooths of the year compared to more than Stwo billion in total exports to Western states, the sources said.

A Polish foreign trade official told Reuters the American move had taken Warsaw by surprise. "We were not prepared for this. We are now working out what the effects will be," he said and could give no immediate details.

HOME REPORTS

Pollution and the environment

How safe is drinking water from zinc storage tanks

By Mustafa M. Salma

ples for lead poisoning in children, it was observed that the zinc level appeared to be higher than the tanks.
normal level of 120 ug/100 ml of Zinc

The result of this observation raised my euriousity and led me to undertake an investigation to loeate the source of zinc increase in human blood. Drinking water from zinc storage tanks (com-monly used in the Middle East) ctroscopy our findings showed that the level of zinc from storage siological effects upon man except, Pls. note: zinc tanks was the highest and at very high concentrations. An ug/ml microgram per millilitre ranged from 0.10-2.06 mg/litre. emetic concentration requires mg/l milligram per litre

Zinc occurs abundantly in rocks and ores and is readily refined into a stable pure metal. It is used extensively for galvanising in alloys, for electrical purposes, in printing plates and for many other ind-

Zinc has no known adverse phy-

During the analysis of blood sam- While for others, it was 0.08-0.28 675-2280 mg/l. In fact, zinc is an mg/litre. It was also observed that essential and beneficial element in the level of zinc is dependent on: human nutrition. The normal corrosivity of water, residence buman intake of zinc is estimated in the samples analysed was 200-corrosivity of water, residence buman intake of zinc is estimated 660 ug/100 ml of blood. This value time in galvanised pipes and zinc at 10-15 mg per day. A summary of literature relating to the toxicity of zinc reveals that families and communities have used waters containing 11.2, 17, 18.5 and 26.6 mg/l. with no ill effects. One water supply containing 23.8 to 40.8 mg/l. of zinc gave no harmful effects to 200 persons stationed at a depot. On the other hand, another In the domestic water supplies, supply containing 30.8 mg/l. of was obviously suspected. Sub-the U.S. Public Health drinking zinc caused nausea and fainting sequently, several water samples water standards set a limit of 5 spells. Furthermore the synfrom various areas in Kuwait were mg/l of zinc (which is the taste three ergistic effects of zinc on bumans collected at random from houses eshold for zinc). The WHO Interest are still not known. From these with zinc storage tanks, cement ernational and European Starreferences, it would appear that water storage supplies and from ndards for drinking water also the WHO & USPHS limits are lirect water lines.

prescribe a permissible or rec- conservative insofar as phyUsing atomic absorption spe- ommendered limit of 5.0 mg/liter. siological effects are concerned.

Health risks in meat containing nitrates as preservatives

the nitrogen cycle, are generally poor preservation of beer, and (d) formed in water by the action of nitrites are indicative of organic low concentrations of nitbacteria upon ammonia and org- matter in decomposition. anic nitrogen. Owing to the fact that they are quickly oxidised to of nitrite salts, which have been nitrates, they are seldom present present in cured meat products for in surface water in significant con- decades both as protection against centrations. In conjunction with botulism poisoning and to impoil mg/liter), they can scarcely body is tissues is impaired. have a pharmacological effect.

In industrial water supplies, nitrites are undesirable in waters for use in brewing, and in the dying of objectionable in brewing because (a) nitrites are poisonous to the yeast (b) unsuitable for malting as they cause an invasion of the malt were fond to react with secondary locally.

Nitrites, an intermediate stage in by molds and bacteria (e) cause

The ingestion of small amounts water are often indicative of org- not believed to pose a chronic hea-

Nitrates as preservatives

amines to form nitromines. Further research has confirmed that rosamines are sometimes found in bacon, when heated to high temperature. In order to lower the levels of nitrite added in cured meat products, the addition of (sodium ascorbate) or (sodium ammonia and nitrate, nitrites in rove the meat's appearance, was erythorbate) was required, where each competes with secondary and anic pollution. Nitrites can also lth hazard, until recently. How- tertiary amines for reaction with enter a water supply the uch its ever, it has been long known that mitrite, thus reducing the potential use as a corrosion inhibitor in ind- the ingestion of high levels of nit- formation of nitrosamines. In ustrial process water. Nitrites are rite will cause acute poisoning due 1971, another study have showed poisonous compounds, but in the 10 (methemoglobinemia), where that rats fed nitrites developed a minute amounts ordinarily found the capacity of the blood to carry statistically significant increased in drinking water (rarely exceeds adequate supplies of oxygen to the incidence, of malignant lymphomas. In 1978, another study confirmed the previous results.

In conclusion, there are possible In the mid-1960s, studies have health risks in consuming meat linked the ingestion of nitrates and products containing nitrites. Thesilk fabrics and wool. They are nitrites (commonly added to meat refore, it is recommended to resproducts as preservatives) to the trict the imports of all food propossible formation of carcinogenic ducts containing nitrite as well as nitrosamines. In the study, nitrites prohibit its addition to foods made To compete more effectively with international airlines

Alia improves its inflight services

By Afifah Kaloti Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - Alia, the Royal Jordanian Airline is increasingly focusing its attention on the promotion of its inflight services. According to a passenger survey conducted recently by Alia, a big majority of passengers emphasised the importance of adequate amport facilities and inflight

Because facilities in Amman airport could not be expanded and improved, Alia awaits the opening of the new Queen Alia Intemational Airport (QAIA) to offer better services on the gro-

Meanwhile, policy-makers have decided to embark on improving their on-board services and hence created the inflight service department, as Alia's aim is to compete more effectively with other

"The first responsibility of the new department," the inflight service vice president, Mr. Munib Toukan told the Jordan Times, was to upgrade the quality of the inflight service."

To achieve that "we established two important, thoroughly studied, programmes for recruiting and training," he said. Being university graduates and acceptable physical appearance were the two main basic criteria for the employment of the inflight staff. As a result "holders of university degrees including medical doctors, engineers and architects were brought in Professional full time beauticians were involved as well for appearance was seriously taken into consideraton," Mr. Toukan said.

General lectures

In order to improve its personel, general knowledge lectures were scheduled to be part of Alia traming programme.

"Jordan's experts of tourism, industry, economy and social work were invited to lecture to the current staff to provide them with the basic elements of public rel-ations," the vice president clarified. Colloquial Arabic classes were also part of the training programme. "Since 75 per cent of the two million passengers carried per year are Arabs, bolding colloquial Arabic sessions were necessary to non-Arab staff. Its aim was to provide them with the minimum ocadiliary to converse the service required." Since Alia is a national airline for Jordan dotted with a message to be the ambassador of good will in the world, plans for food and entertainment services were established and put to action. In addition to the food service, other services were initiated to provide the passenger with an extra touch of elegance, and hospitality. The food offered on the plane bowever is based on a menu plan which was carefully studied and approved.

"The food presented to passengers is to provide them with decent, appetising and nourishing meal without going into the extravegance of a five star restaurant," Mr. Toukan stated. He also added that "Alia's caterers abrnad are renowned intemational outfits and by getting the best food available in the aviation market we enhance our food

The YaHala service (you are always welcome) is one of the recently initiated services by the inflight department. The vice president elarified that for this kind of service special ladies were employed to add the final feminine touch to the flight, by serving Arabic coffee according to Jordan customs. One of the customs in Jordan is to serve bitter Arabic coffee to guests. It is a well-boiled coffee, served by a special brass kettle in special small cups, without handles. He also added that the ladies' moto is to make every only one on board. Mr. Toukan also added that they provide give aways to first class passengers-statuettes made out of wood, locally designed and pai-nted showing the various Jordanian national dresses.

The Tail-Wind bar new service is planned to be implemented in the couple of weeks to come. The Tail-Wind service is a mobile bar where the passenger would help himself with anything he wants if he chooses so.

For long distance flights, ent-

Alia awaits the opening of Queen Alia International Airport (QAIA) to offer better services for the passengers, as facilities at the Amman Airport could not be expanded and improved.

ertainment is an essential service to be carefully handled. "Entertainment on board is also dealt with by playing Jordanian, Lebanese, and Arabie music, This is in addition to the European easy pops and classical music. We have also a special programme depicting history and a programme for the recital of the Holy Koran as well," Mr. Toukan said. As for the reading material, be concluded that it is available in enough quantities and qualities with the idea to appeal to every passenger on

Alia has a treat in store for its passengers

Cairo (EA)

Karachi (PIA)

.. Aqaba (RJ) Larraca (CY)

TV & RADIO

MAIN CHANNEL Treasure Island Walt Disney 18:55 Local Programm . Arabic Serie 20-30 Arabic Series FOREIGN CHANNEL French Program

JORDAN TELEVISION

We Will Meet Again News in English RADIO JORDAN 855 KHz, AM & 99 MHz, FM & partly on 9560 KHz, SW

..... News in French News in Hebrew

07:00	Morning Show
18:00	News Summary
10:05	Morning Show
12-00	News Summary
12:05	Pop Seision
13-00	News Summary
13:05	Pop Session
14-00	News Bulletin
14-10	Instrumentals
14.20	Now Music
15-00	Concen Hour
14-00	News Summary
16:60	Instrumentals, Old Favourites
20:10	Institutentals, Old Patourius
17:00	Talking Points, Pop Session
18:00	News Summary
	Over a Cup of Tea, Ambian
Music
	Newsdesk
19-30	Date with a Star

BBC WORLD SERVICE

News Su

Evening Show

06:00 Newsdesk 06:30 Waveguide 06:40

Book Choice 96:45 Financial News 96:55 Reflections 97:00 World News 98:35 Reflections 97:30 World News 97:39 24 Hours News Summary 97:30 Gens for the Pisno 97:45 The World Today 98:00 Newsdesk 98:39 Pro-menade Concerts 99:09 World News 99:39 24 Hours News Summary 99:30 Letter from Loader 18:48 Proschools Letter from London 99:40 Paperback Choice 99:45 Report on Religion 10:00 World News 10:09 Reflections 10:15 Before the Rock Set in 10:30 Brain of Britain 1982 11:00 World News 11:05 British Press Review 11:15 The World British Press Review [1:15 fine world Today 11:30 Financial News 11:40 Look Ahead 11:45 Music from Wales 12:00 A Pair of Blue Eyes 12:15 Commonwealth Games 12:30 The London Sinfonitia 13:00 World News 13:09 News about Britain 13:15 Listening Post 13:30 Mex-idian 14:00 Radio Newsreel 14:15 Nat-ure Notebook 14:25 The Farming World 14:45 Sports Round-up 15:00 World News 15:09 24 Hours News Summars 16:30 Radio Theories 16:15 World News 15:99 24 Hours News Summary 15:30 Radio Theatre 16:15 Report on Religion 16:38 Man, Myth and Music 16:45 Intermezzo 17:90 Radio Newsreel 17:15 Outlook 18:00 World News 18:09 Commentary 18:15 Rock Salad 18:45 The World Today 19:00 World News 19:09 Listening Post 19:00 World News 19:09 Listening Post 19:25 New Ideas 19:15 Waveguide 19:45 Sports Round-up 20:00 World News; News about Britain 20:15 Radio Newsreel 20:30 Top Twenty 21:00 Outlook; News Summary 21:39 Stock Market Report 21:45 Look Ahead 21:45 Choral Music of Kodaly 22:00 World News 22:09 24 Hours News Summary 22:30 Assignment 23:00 Network UK 23:15 What's New 23:30 Jazz for the Asking Assignment 23:00 Network UK 23:15 What's New 23:30 Jazz for the Asking 24:00 World News 24:09 The World Today 00:25 Book Choice: Financial News 00:40 Reflections 00:45 Sports Round-up 01:00 World News; Com-mentary 01:15 The Secret Sharer 01:30

VOICE OF AMERICA 05:00 Daybreak 06:00 The Breakfast Show: 17:00 News roundup: reports, opinion, analyses 17:30 VOA Magopinion, analyses 1/220 v.O. angazine: Americana, science, culture, letters 18:00 Special English News 18:15 Feature: Space and Man 18:20 Now Music USA 19:00 News Roundup: reports, opinion, analyses, 19:30 Datoline 20:00 Special English: nows, feature: Space and Man, 20:30 Now Music USA 21:00 News Roundup; reports, opinion, analyses. 21:30 VOA Magazine: Americana, science, culture, letters. 22:00 Special English; news 22:15 Music USA (Jazz) 23:00 VOA World Report

WHAT'S GOING ON

EXHIBITIONS Alechinsky exhibition, at the French

* Forms, 30 graphics from West Germany, at the Goethe Institute. Thirty Years of Jordanian Painting, at Masks, at the French Cultural Contre.

FILM

" Saturday Night Fever, at the American Centre at 3:00 p.m. and at 7:00 p.m. Collect your tickets at the centre.

CULTURAL CENTRES

American Centre tel. 41520
British Council 36147-8
French Cultural Centre 37009
Goethe Institute 41993
Soviet Cultural Centre 44203
Spenish Cultural Centre 24049
Turkish Cultural Centre 39777
Haya Arts Centre 665195
Hussein Youth City 66718t
Y.W.C.A 41793
Y.W.M.A 664251
Amman Municipal Library 36111
University of Jordan Library 84355

MUSEUMS

Folktione Masseum: Jewelry and con-tumes over 100 years old. Also mosaics from Madaba and Jerash (4th to 18th centuries). The Roman Theatre, centuries). (the Roman Ineatre, Amman, Opening hours: 9,00 a.m. - 5 p.m. Year-round, Tel. 51760. Jordan Archaeological Museum: Has an excellent collection of the antiquities of Jordan, Jabal Al Qafa (Citadel Hill). Opening hours: 9,00 a.m. - 5,00 p.m. (Fridays and official holidays 10,00 a.m. - 6,00 a.m.). Cloud Tanadam: (Fridays and official holidays 10.00 a.m. 4,00 p.m.). Closed Tnesdays. Jordan National Gallery: Contains a collection of paintings, ceramics, and sculpture by contemporary Islamic artists from most of the Muslim countriesed a collection of paintings by 19th Century orientalist artists. Muntaush, Jabal Lawelbdeh. Opening hours: 10.00 a.m. 1.30 p.m. and 3.30 p.m. - 6.00 p.m.

Closed Tuesdays. Tel. 30128.

Military Magnes: Collection of military Military Magenes: Collection of military memorabilis dating from the Arab Revolt of 1916. Sports City, Amman. Opening hours 9 a.m. 4 p.m. Closed Saturdays. Tel. 664240. Popular Life of Jordan Massens: 100 to 150 year old items such as costumes, weapons, musical instruments, etc. Opening hours: 9.00 a.m. - 5.00 p.m.

Tuesdays. Tel. 37169.

SERVICE CLUBS

Lious Assume Club. Meetings every first and third Wednesday at the Int-ercontinental Hotel, 1.30 p.m. Lious Philadelphia Club. Meetings every second and fourth Wednesday at the Grand Palace Hotel, 1.30 p.m. Retary Club. Meetings every Tuesday at the Intercontinental Hotel, 2.00 p.m. Royal Automobile Club. Jabal Amman, Eighth Circle, Tel. 815261.

CHURCHES

St. Joseph Church (Roman Catholic) Jabal Amman, tel. 24590. Church of the Ammanciation (Roman Catholic) Jabai Luweibdeh, 37440. De la Salle Church (Roman Cathotic) Jabel Hussein, 661757.
Church of the Annunciation (Greek Orthodox) Abdali, 23541.
Anglican Church (Church of the Redeemer) Jabal Amman, 43453. Armenian Catholic Church Ashrafieh, Armenica Orthodox Church Ashralieh. 75261.

75.201.

St. Ephraim Church (Syrian Orthodox)
Ashrafich, 71.751.

Amman International Caurch (Interdenominational): meets at Southern Baptist School in Shmeisanl, 663249. PRAYER TIMES

04:15	Fair
05:38
11:23	Dhuhr
	A*,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,
17:07	Maghreb
13:37	1 John

FOR THE TRAVELLER AMMAN AIRPORT

This information is supplied by Alla information department at Amman Airport tel. 92205-6, where it should always be

ARRIVALS

99:00
99:15	Abu Dahbi (RJ
09:40	Dhahran (RJ
	Kuwait (RJ)
19:50	Muscat, Dubai (RI)
10:15	Beirut (RJ)
11:10	Cairo (EA)
14:50	Bocharest (Tarom)
15:20	Jeddah (SV)
15:38	Kowait (KAC)
15:30
16-30	Bangkok (RJ)
17:00 (Copenhagen. Athens (RJ)
17:10	Catro (EA)
17:15	New York, Vienna (R.J.
17:15	Beirut (MEA
17:30	Beirut (MÈA)
18:00	Cairo (RJ
18:15	Zurich (5R
18:35	Paris (AF
18:45	Casablanca, Tunis (RJ
20:15	Frankfart (LH
22:30	Baehdad (RJ
24:99	Cairo (RJ
00:30	Baghdad (RJ
01:10	Chiro (EA
02:30	. Belgrade, Istanbul (YA
	Stanton (TV

DEPARTURES

65:00	Cairo (R
06:25	Larnoca, Frankfurt (L)
	Beirut (R
95:15	Cairo (È/
QE-40	Karachi (PL/Rome (Alitalia
	. Athens, Amsterdam (KLA Larnaca (CY
11:66	Vienna, New York (R.
11:38	Cairo (R
	_ Athens, Copenhagen (Si
12:00	London (R.
12:10	Cairo (E.
14-86	C-i C

Kuwait (KAC)

.... Cairo (EA) Baghdad (RJ) Kuwait (RJ) Bahrain, Doha (RJ

MONEY EXCHANGE

Local sellibuy rotes in fils t31.5/ t32.3 351.1/ 353.6 Japanese yen (for 100) ___ 25.2/ Japanese yen (for 100) 135.6/ Kuwaiti dinar _____1223.6/ . 1222.6/ 1223.3 Lebanese lira ... Omani riyal Qatari riyal ----- 83.5/ 85 ---- 1033.6/ 1040.3 . 98.1/ 98.6 104.1/ 104.6 Saudi riyal Swedish crown Swiss franc Syrian fire UAE dirbam 62.2/

WEATHER

Bulletin supplied by the Department of it will be fair. Winds will be son-

U.S. dollar ______ 358/ 360 W. German mark ____ 143.7/ 144.6

threesterly moderate to fresh with clo-udy and dusty amousphere at times. In Aqsha, a will be dusty. Winds will be northerly moderate and seas calm, but Lowthigh temperature in deg.C. Agebe 25/36

Yesterday's high temperature readings: Amman 28, Aqaba 36. Humidity rea-dings: Amman 34 per cent, Aqaba 18

USEFUL TELEPHONE NOS.

.... 193, 75111

EMERGENCIES

Dr. Fayez ialiuqah ______ Al Arabiyah Al Kubrah p

Litation Tite	Pouce 137
Blood bank	75t21	Al Salam pharmacy
	e rescue 661111 ~	Al Kilani pharmacy	4306
	rters 22090-3	Khamis pharmacy	66841
	192, 21111, 37777	Al Safa' pharmacy
		Tareq taxi	2302
	marters	Al Jami'ah taxi	66100
	56390-1	Gabi taxi
	er Co 36381-2	Al Dans and	4130
Municipal wa	ster service 71125-8	Al Barq texi
H	OSPITALS	Assour taxi	2523
		ZARQA
	dical Centre _ 813813-32	Dr. Barkat Shahrawi 8	i 3038/8179
	mity, J. Amman 44281-4	Bilal pharmacy
	rnity, J. Amman 42441	Ouar pharmacy	}_
Jabel Amma	p Maternity 42362	IRBID
Malbas, 1. A	36140		0460000
Palestine, Sh	meisani 664171-4	Dr. Nayef Gharaybeh	2400/303
Shmeisani H	lospital 669131-5	Al Wahdeh pharmacy	204
University H	lospital 845845.	GENERAI
Dar Al-Shife	, J. Hussein 667158	Children
AlaMmasher	Hospital 667227-9	Jordan Television	7311
The Islamic	Abdeli 665292	Radio Jordan	7411
ALANI AN	dali 664164	Ministry of Tourism	4231
Itelian Al.A	fuhajreen 7710t-3	Hotel complaints	66641
Al Darble T	Achaeta //101-3	Price complaints	66117
AL-Dason, J.	. Ashrafieh 75111	Telephone
ARRIV. Mark	91611	reseptione.

MARKET

Apple (African) Apple (American) Apple (Double Red)	240 / 2 240 / 2
Apple (Golden)	220 / 1/ 250 / 2/ 250 / 2/ 220 / 1
Banana (Mukammar)	260 / 2 225 / 1 280 / 2 280 / 2
Carrot	180 / 1 200 / 1 440 / 4 150 / t
Cucumber (small)	210 / 1 200 / 1 180 / 1 150 / 1
Garlic	450 / 4

NIGHT DUTY

AMMAN Dr. Nabil Al Maridi

260 / 200 Hot Green Pepper Lemon (imported) 150 / 120 50 / - 30 160 / 140 250 / 200

Jordan and Middle East calls

 $A \neq a$ 注水道:

. Tan er

Marie ii

चेता _{गर्भ}

2 kg 👵

See 15

Springer.

3/4

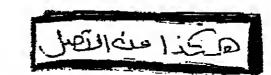

30b 16

e in

:Henny 13

 $\alpha_{\rm max}$

130 / 100 5407.500 4507 3809 150 / 120 240 200 136 90

Jordan urges IAEA to focus attention on developing nations

MMAN (Petra) - Jordan has alled for basic and essential chages in the philosophy governing e work of the International stomic Energy Agency (IAEA) the next decade by focusing on ssistance to developing countries advance technologically and uild nuclear utilities to generate he necessary power for their devlopment and growth. This came a speech which the head of the rdanian delegation made at the 6th IAEA conference recently dd in Vienna.

The Jordanian delegate, Abd-la Salah, called on the conferees suspend Israel's membership in IAEA and deny Israel all AEA privileges, particularly that one-year period which the preconference gave Israel to ace its nuclear installations ider international control and to p its aggressive actions against area's peoples has been "expited by Israel to commit further as represented in its rcible annexation of occupied mb territories, namely the iolan Heights, the invasion of ebanon, committing massacres t Palestinian refugee camps in leifut and continued atomic cooeration with the racist regime of

This dictates on the IAEA member states to support the call for suspending Israel's membership in the agency out of respect to the agency's charter and United Nations resolutions and out of fear that Israel's practices might become an international precedent which might be followed by states which have no respect for international law, Mr. Salah said.

Energy director at the Ministry of Trade and Industry and member of the delegation Ibrahim Badran told the Jordanian News Agency, Petra, that the conference refused to accept the credentials of the Israeli delegation when the matter was brought to a vote at the end of the conference on the strength of the fact that the Israeli government does not represent all the residents living under its political jurisdiction, thereby affirming the ill-egitimacy of the Israeli occ-upation of Arah lands in Palestine, Lebanon and the Syrian Golan

Mr. Salah, who headed the Jordanian delegation to the conference is currently Jordan's amh-

NEWS IN BRIEF

Amman, suburbs to have more telephones

AMMAN (Petra) — The central telephone committee has agreed to nstall 977 new telephones in Amman and its suburbs, Telcommunications Minister Mohammad Addoub Al Zaben said after meeting the committee held Tuesday. He added that the corporation completed the expansion of the telephone networks in several areas of Amman to cope with the increasing demand for

Armico chief to attend mine inauguration

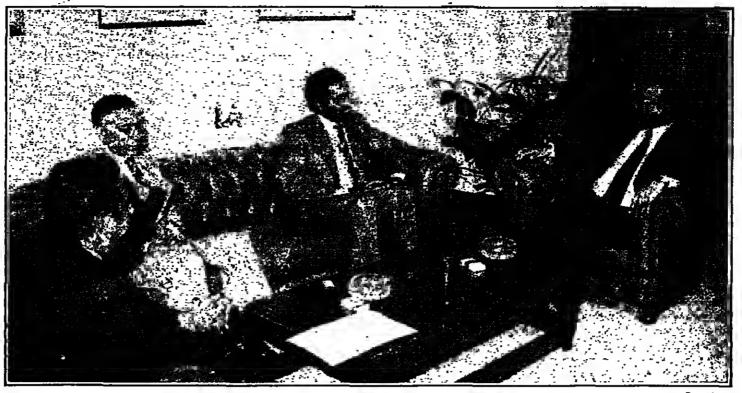

AMMAN (Petra) - Director General of the Arab Mining Company (Armico) Thabit Al Taher left Amman for Morocco Tuesday to attend a ceremony of inaugurating the Zaghundar mine producing silver, which hegan production on Oct. 1. The Armico is participating by 40 per cent of the mine's capital and the Moroccan government owns 60 per cent. The Armico is also participating by 40 per cent of the capital of a copper and zinc mine in Morocco which began production three months ago.

Mrs. Sharaf to meet women from media

AMMAN (Petra) - National Consultative Council (NCC) member Leila Sharaf will meet at the Haya Arts Centre on Wednesday with women working in the press and information sector. Mrs. Sharaf said the aim of the meeting is to get acquainted with the ideas of the women working in this sector, their working conditions and their

Iragis invited for friendly matches

BAGHDAD (Petra) - Al Mustansiryeh University in Baghdad Tuesday received an invitation from the University of Jordan for friendly sports matches between the teams of the two universities from Nov, 15 to Nov. 25 on the 20th anniversary of the University of Jordan establishment. A team of 70 Iraqi athletes will visit Jordan for

Prime Minister Mudar Badran (extreme right) and Health Minister Zuhair Malhas (second from left) Tuesday-confer

with the visiting North Yemeni Health Minister Ahmad Al

Arab civic team arrives for municipal talks

AMMAN (Petra) - Secretary-General of the Arah Cities Organisation (ACO) and the mayor of the city of Kuwait, Sheikh Abdul Aziz Al Adasani, arrived in Amman Tuesday leading an ACO delegation for a three-day visit to Jordan at the invitation of Amman Mayor Issam Ajlouni.

During the visit, Mr. Adasani will have talks with Jordanian officials on cooperation between the ACO and the Kuwait Municipality on the one hand and the Amman Municipality on the other. The talks will also include ACO programmes and preperation for an ACO conference to be held in Algiers.

The delegation will also make field visits to a number of projects which the Amman Municipality and the Amman Water and Sewerage Authority (AWSA) are implementing.

Later in the day. Prime Minister Mudar Badran received Mr. Adasani and his delegation. The discussed ways of enhancing cooperation between the Amman Municipality on the one hand and the ACO and the Kuwait Municipality on the other.

Amman Mayor Ajlouni and Mr. Adasani discussed the Amman muncipality's services to citizens and implementation of various projects in the capital. Mr. Adasani also visited the research department at the municipality and heard a briefing on the studies made by the department in the cultural, social, sports and org-anisational fields. He was also hriefed on designs prepared by the department to develop the city of Amman on a modern hasis to cope with the increasing demands of the city and its residents.

Amman Mayor Isam Ajlouni (sixth from left) headed by Kuwait Mayor Sheikh Abdul Aziz Al Adassani (to Mr. Ajlouni's right).

Tuesday receives a delegation of the Arab Cities Organisation and the Kuwait Municipality opean countries.

eloping them.

RSS plans to hold scientific seminars

Scientific Society (RSS) Tuesday decided to hold several specialised scientific seminars in the next three months in cooperation with several Arah and international scientific institutions.

The RSS decided to hold a training seminar on technology and petrochemicals on Oct. 31 in cooperation with the Economic (ECWA). The four-day seminar will include lectures and practical applications on the most modern techniques in petrochemicals and the latest developments in this

AMMAN (Petra) — The Royal On Nov. 20, the RSS will org- well as the use of the wind ene anise a seminar on priorities of science and technology in cooperation with a federation of couneils of Arab scientific research. The five-day seminar will include several research and working papers on technology and its modern

On Dec. 4, the RSS will hold a Committee for West Asia seminar on agriculture in cooperation with the Arah Organisation for Agricultural Development (AOAD). The five-day seminar will include topics on technology and the use of solar energy for agricultural purposes as five-day seminar on the modern use of plastic technology in cooperation with the ECWA.

anise a seminar on the diversification of the sources of income in the Arah World.

On Dec. 18, the RSS will org-

On Dec. 11, the RSS will hold a for irrigation purposes and the possibility of exchanging information between Arah and Eur-

On Dec. 4 also, the RSS will hold a technical seminar for road engineers and technicians. The two-week seminar will include lectures and practical applications in testing materials used in roads and methods for improving and dev-

N. Yemeni minister tours university

Badran receives Iryani's message

AMMAN (Petra) — Prime Minister Mudar Badran Tuesday received from his North Yemeni Counterpart Abdul Karim Al Iryani a message dealing with bilateral relations and seeking ways to strengthen them.

The message was delivered by the visiting North Yemeni Health Minister Ahmad Al Kahhad who was received by Mr. Badran Tue-

Éarlier Tuesday, Health Minister Zuhair Mathas accompanied Dr. Kabbab on a visit to the University of Jordan where they met with University President Abdul Salam Al Majali.

Dr. Majali hriefed the guest minister on the history of the university, educational philosophy, the credit-hour systems used, the role of the medical students in advancing medical research and serving the citizens.

The guest minister also reviewed the equipment used at the Jordan University Hospital and heard a briefing on the hospital's role in training medical students.

Dr. Malhas and Dr. Kahbab also visited the Royal Medical Corps, The Yemeni minister discussed with the director of the corps ways of strengthening health cooperation between Jordan and North Yemen and the possibility of having Yemen benefit from the advanced medical expertise of the Jordanian Royal Medical Corps.

Dr. Kahhah also visited the Hussein Medical Centre and inspected its various sections. He expressed his admiration for the high standard it has achieved.

Society lauds Austrian support of Arab causes

AMMAN (Petra) - The the Palestinian and Arah issues, Jordanian-Austrian Friendship Society Monday held a meeting at the Regency Palace Hotel as part of the meetings which the society organises to exchange views aimed at strengthening ties of friendship and cooperation between the Jordanian and Austrian peo-

Speeches were made during the meeting praising Austria's positive stands in support of Arab causes, particularly the Arab-

Israeli dispute and support of the just Arab demands. Public Works Minister and Chairman of the Society Awni Al particularly against the systematic campaigns of annihilation against the Palestinian people in Leh-

Mr. Masri said the society appreciates the "courageous and honest stands of Chancellor Kreisky against the inhumanitarian actions of the Zionists and their disregard of the Palestinian people's rights and peace in the area.

Mr. Masri said that His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan has accepted to become honorary chairman of the society.

The meeting was attended by the Austrian amhassador in Masri praised Chancellor Bruno Amman and embassy staff and Kreisky's unique stands towards members of the society.

ATA condemns Israeli looting

AMMAN (Petra) — The Amman Sday to the director general of the Theatre Association (ATA) Tue- United Nations Educational, Scisday denounced the "ugly crimes entific and Cultural Organisation committed by the Zionist invasion (UNESCO), also denounced the committed by the Zionist invasion forces in Lehanon by looting and destructing Palestinian cultural and art institutions and killing. displacing and torturing Pal-

"barbaric annihilation attempts by the Israeli forces against the Palestinian people to uproot them from their places of residence and estinians and Lebanese equally." to divert attention from their just The ATA, in a cable sent Tue- cause and legitimate struggle."

AOAD, OPEC plan conference on non-conventional foodstuff

BAGHDAD (Petra) - A scientific seminar on the use of nonconventional foodstuffs will be held in Amman on Nov. 20, the secretary-general of the Baghdad office of the Arah Organisation for Agricultural Development (AOAD) said Tuesday.

All Arah countries will he represented in the seminar, which will be organised in cooperation between the AOAD and the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC). During the five-day seminar, the participants will discuss scientific topics on agricultural development with the aim of hridging the gap in providing protein by non-conventional methods.

Embezzlement, bribery cases sentenced

AMMAN (Petra) - The military court indicted Hafez Mohammad Hussein Barakat, a former employee of the Yarmouk University, on charges of embezzling public funds and forging official papers. Mr. Barakat was given t5 years of imprisonment with hard labour and fined JD 545. It also sentenced Muharak Ayed Hussein, also a former emplovee of the Yarmouk University, to one year of imprisonment, and Ghzi Diyah Ahmad Al Zu'hi to five years of imprisonment with hard labour and a fine of JD 545 after indictment on the same cha-

The court also sentenced Awad Farhan Al Jahawsheh to three months of imprisonment and a fine of JD 10 for offering a bribe to a civil servant which was turned down. It also sentenced Abdul Wahhah Jamil Abdul Wahhag, a former Agriculture Ministry employee, to three months of imprisonment and a fine of JD 200 for requesting and accepting a hribe to carry out an illegal act by misusing the authority given to him by his joh. The court also decided to imprison Shawqi Mohammad Rashid Yousef for two years and a fine of JD 150 for demanding and accepting a bribe to carry out an

All the sentences were approved by the military tatus as the sole legitimate repesentative of the Palestinian peocould study them. But in an apparent rebuttal of the Syrian min-

He disclosed that in 1974, he ad sent two envoys (Sabri Jiryes nd Isam Sartawi) to open a diaogue with the U.S. admdistration, but that they were deported' by (former Secretary f State Henry) Kissinger. In answer to a question on whe-

the Palestinian people to selfetermination, the creation of an tdependent state and the PLO's

her King Hussein will be speaking n behalf of the PLO when he oes to Washington, Mr. Arafat aid that the seven-member ollow-up committee would "decle on all these issues" during its orthcoming meeting in Fez.

Referring to a recent statement y Syrian Information Minister ilmad Iskander Ahmad quetioning Mr. Arafat's right to-peak for the PLO in talks with full text of these statements so that the PLO Executive Committee ister's statement, Mr. Arafat referred to a reported Israeli threat made on Tuesday that Palestinian-Jordanian reprochement carried a great risk to Jordan. "Tell this to the Arah leaders," he said. "Tell it to the Arah information ministers."

Continued from page 1

Mr. Arafat called for an immediate end to the Iraq-Iran war. The war, he said, was against the interests of both the Iraqi and the Iranian peoples as well as against the interests of the Arah Nation and the Islamic World. He called on Iran and Iraq to halt the war immediately "for the sake of Pal-

On a question related to a pos-

Arafat says accord is in progress King Hussein, the PLO leader said sible return of Egypt to the Arah that he had asked the PLO's Pol-fold, Mr. Arafat said that Egypt itical Department to obtain the was an issue that "touches my heart." He pointed out that he had fought in two wars for Egypt and that he was injured in one of them.

> He aid that he had received bis education in Egypt and that he was aware of the "cultural, political, human, military and political dimensions of Egypt." It was enough, he said, to recall that during the siege of Beirut, an Egyptian team of artists was the only team that bad "bravely" made its way through the siege to meet with him. "I therefore know and say that Egypt must assume it's place of which I dream," Mr. Arafat said. He said that he was "willing to do anything to give Egypt the chance" of assuming such a place, hut said that his schedule so far does not yet include a visit to

"LO Chairman Yasser Arafat gives his press conference in Amman on Tuesday

ntries will be held at the premises Meetings of the 15th session of

ASMO meetings scheduled

AMMAN (Petra) - The third tackle various educational and meeting of the directors of metrology departments in Arab couof the Arab Standardisation and Metrology Organisation (ASMO) here on Saturday.

During the two-day meetings, the conference will discuss technical matters of interest to the organisation and ways of advancing Arah standardisation equipment. They will also discuss the problems of technical committees in their endeavour to draw up unified Arah specifications.

The organisation's secretary general, Zafir Al Sawwal, said the aim of this annual meeting is to activities.

By Afifah A. Kaloti

Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - An amateur photography club has been recently established in Ammao to promote and encourage the art of photography in Jordan. Its main aim is to develop the skills of the members enabling them to hold photographic exhibitions and com--

The Jordan Amateur Photography Club was officially founded on May 4, 1982."The club is a long overdue idea. It was thought of three years ago hy a group of around ten people who were very interested in photography,"

Zai'd Goussous, vice-president of

According to the rules and regulations of the Ministry of Culture and Youth, a transitional period of three to six months is required before any elections for club off-

Elections took place on Oct. 4 at the British Council and an executive committee of seven r - icers could take place.

the club told the Jordan Times.

petitions.

technical issues related to specifications and standardisation.

the organisation's General Committee, which includes 19 Arab states as members, will be held at the organisation's premises on Oct. 18. Most prominent topics on the agenda are a report of the organisation's secretary-general on the organisation's activities, its work plan for 1982 and budget for next year. The General Committee is the supreme body of the organisation and decides its general policy and supervises its administrative, financial and technical members in the club.

mittee.

pictures.

tography centre.

president, Mr. Goussous as vice-president, Sadi Abdin as general secretary, Dikran Salbashian as

It will act as an office to the club's members, as an exhibition darkroom for members to develop

Financial sources

people interested in photography in Jordan. Membership is open to St.," Mr. Goussous said.

Amateur photographic club takes shape in Jordan bers was formed out of the 30 anyone interested in joining the club. For the first three months a Kamel Kawar was elected as fee of half a dinar per month is required from the associate member. An initial fee of JD 15 and an annual subscription of JD 12 is treasurer, Radwan Masammat, then required. George Haddad and Ali Kittani as Mr. Goussous added that funmemhers of the executive comding will be attained through exhibitions and through honorary The cluh plans to rent a place to members to be chosen at a later make it their multi-purpose pho-

"For short-term activities the club plans to hold an exhibition in the next two or three months which will be announced in due hall for future exhibitions and a course," the vice-president stated.

The photos to be displayed in "For the time being, we are the up-coming exhibition will be using Salbashian's school of phoselected by a committee to be tography located at Wadi Sagra formed later for such a purpose. "We actually plan to form another three committees. A publicity and advertising committee, a membership drive and fund raising The cluh's main source of fincommittee and an activity comance at present depends on memmittee which will be responsible to organise photography trips in Jorbership fees and donations from

dan and abroad," Mr. Goussous

Members in the club will be given 20 per cent reduction on all equipment, material and service. An I.D. card will be issued to every member permitting him or her to take pictures of any public place without constraints. "The new centre will provide technical assistance to new comers into the field of photography," Mr. Goussous added.

Meanwhile, the Jordan Amateur Photography Club in cooperation with Salbishian Trading Company conducts a six-week photography course including 18 lectures for a fee of JD 30.

"It is a non-profit school. Photographic papers, films, black and white as well as coloured printings will be given free of charge during the course. The first meeting of the executive committee was held last Saturday, and its main aim was to establish a workplan for next year. Other things, nevertheless, were discussed during the meeting. It was decided to hold a workshop seminar for people interested in discuss photography in general and "participants can bring their cameras if they need any technical assistance," Mr. Goussous claphotography. The seminar will

Photography competition

It was also decided that there will be a photography competition to cover the Jordan Car Raily which will take place on Oct. 29, sponsored by the Royal Automobile Club of Jordan. "The photo campaign will be for anyone interested. Five photos are required from each participant along with JD 5 as admission fee for the competition," the vice-president

He concluded that four cameras will be distributed to the first four winners.

The club invites memberships and interested persons may contact its secretary, Mr. Abdin on tel. 43816 or 668327 or write to Post Box No. 7922.

Responsible Editor Editor-in-Chief

MOHAMMAD AMAD RAMI G. KHOURI Managing Editor : GEORGE S. HAWATMEN

Board of JUMA'A HAMMAD! Orectors RAIA ELISA MORAMMAD AWAD MAHMOUD AL KATED

Eduptial and advertising offices Telephones-. Telex.

Jordan Press, Foundation.; University Road, P.O. Box 6710, America, Jordan. 667171 7-3-4 21497 ALRAI 10 JORTIMES, Amman, Jordan

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays Supeription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan livies advertising department

Hike

THERE SEEM to be two pressing issues in the United States that are taxing the ingenuity and decisiveness of the American people and government. The most important issue is to end the strike by players of the National Foothall League, and that is a matter that we would prefer to stay nut nf. The second issue seems to be a strong desire to draw Jordan into negotiations to resolve the Palestinian-Israeli and broader Arab-Israeli disputes. The talks here this week between the Jordanian government and the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) team headed by Mr. Yasser Arafat should cause Americans to ponder the issue seriously. If Jordan and its "moderate" policy is so highly esteemed in American circles of power, and if drawing Jardan into ongoing peace talks with Israel and the United States is such a priority, what then should Americans conclude about the close relationship between Jordan and the PLO that has been highlighted here this

If Jardanian moderation is a value to be appreciated, nortured and effectively used in the service of a just peace, then one thinks that Jordanian-PLO contacts are worth emulating nn other fronts, notably the American-Palestinian front. Jordanian policy under His Majesty King Hussein seems to be highly respected in America as a model of Arab reason, prudence and fairness. So closer Inrdan-PLO ties, one assumes, should be seen in America as a reasonable, fair and appropriate development that augurs well for future peace-making prospects in this area.

It is important to nurture a coincidence of views and approaches between the PLO-Jordan consensus that is taking shape and the reinvigorated American view of peacemaking in Palestine. One suspects that the gap between the American attitude and the PLO-Jordan line is not as wide as public pronouncements would at first suggest. If the Americans put as much effort into bridging this gap as they do into settling the football strike, and deal with the issues in the same spirit of urgency and compromise, then a serious American-Palestinian-Jordanian dialogue could emerge soon as a crucial lynchpin of current efforts to deal with the Palestine problem in a serious manner.

JORDAN'S ARABIC PRESS EDITORIALS

Al Ra'i: Jordanian-Palestinian action is a solid basis

The fraternal talks between Jordan and the Paiestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) are continuing in an atmosphere of mutual understanding, open-mindedness and commoo interest in promoting chances for achieving common goals and preserving positive ties. Prime Minister Mudar Badran reiterated this fact in his address to the National Consultative Council (NCC) Monday; and the same fact was emphasised by the chairman of the PLO Executive Committee. Yasser Arafat in his speech to the Badr Palestinian forces, stationed in Jordan, We will remain a unified front, Jordanians and Palestinians, said Mr. Arafat, and the unity of blood and destiny of the two people is irreversible, the PLO leader added. Dependent on this solid fact, our two peoples look forward to the crystallisation of the future

Al Dustour: Steadfastness in the face of pressures

The present Jordanian-Palestinian talks held in Amman are of major importance in promoting chances for achieving a just and comprehensive peace in the Middle East. Observers expect much to come out of the intensified talks taking place now, as in their light, and dependent on their outcome the two sides' ability to milise positive aspects in the international arena would be ass-

The main issue that would be greatly affected by the outcome of the talks is the dimensions of an elaborate approach to freeing the occupied territories, now under Israeli occupation for 15 years. The Palestinian armed struggle has given a splendid example of self-sacrifice and courage. The Jordanian steadfastness has proved exemplary in rendering support to the national struggle and solidarity with the Palestinian brothers. Jordan has undergone a multitude of different kinds of pressures to shake its firm stand towards Palestinian rights. They all failed to deviate JorJordanian-Palestinian relationship, with the view that the future formula will truthfully represent their common will in the drive for the liberation of the occupied territories.

The Jordanian-Palestinian joint action is essentially a national one and a solid hasis for promoting the Arah joint peace plan towards its desired end. Hence, there is no justification, whatsoever, for mass media campaigns, aimed at degrading the Jordanian-Palestinian joint effort and the present visit and talks made in Amman by the leader of the PLO.

Those who are struggling for honourable aims need no patronage expressed on the air, and the ioint Jordanian-Palestinian drive is certainly to advance unimpeded to reach its gloriously-

dan's national course from its attitude, calling for the restoration of the Palestinian inalienable rights as a prerequisite for any peace settlement in

Our two peoples have invariably faced common dangers, and suffered hard times together; their national ties, together with the common aspirations they endorse for a peaceful and prosperous future make it imperative for them to walk hand in hand, as Prime Minister Badran pointed out in his address to the Jordanian National Consultative Council (NCC) Monday.

The Zionist plans and practices, aimed at forcing the Palestinians, living in the West Bank and Gaza to leave their homeland, and the settlement policies manipulated there, should urge the two negotiating sides to do all in their best to come out with a formula for joint actioo, advancing the comprehensive efforts for changing the status quo in the occupied territories."

Done with the wind THE EXPLOITATION of the this case, is free for the taking. It is recommended that the wind power has been one of the authority perform feasibility options open for scientists on the way of meeting the increasing demand for energy. Since a large section of the energy-consuming utilities operate on electric power, intensive research is being undertaken to convert wind power into electricity.

The Jordan Electricity Autbority could coosider the development of wind-turbine generators to supply electric power to certain areas in the country, in particular the sparsely populated areas where the demand is not relatively high. The wind, which is the "raw material" in . studies on the economic and technical viability of such an enterprise.

The age-old wind power will have its applications in any energy era. Power produced from the most expensive fuels, usually oil-and gas-fired units. can be used to follow variations in load, whereas coal and nuclear units run continuously to supply the baseload and hum less expensive fuel. The wind turbines can fill the cost gap between these two supplies.

The fuel-saving capacity of wind turbines has to be compounded with the other factors determining their worthiness, namely a good wind source, projected fuel cost, performance of the turbine, cost of installation and the cost that would otherwise be spent in other systems. The latter category includes the alternative options for electricity supplies. the installation of transformers and transmission lines, etc.... The Department of Meteorology could also participate in the development and operation of wind turbines by providing statistics and forecasts of wind conditions in all parts of the country and over many periods. The variation of the wind power per time of the day, per month and per year constitutes valuable information when looking initially at the system.

The wind turbine can be designed for a specific power rating according to the intended application. Whereas residential uses require machines in the 1 to 8 kilowatt range, agricultural applications may use up to 40 kilowatts. Onemegawatt machines could be required to match diesel gen-. erating units for bigger utilities. In some cases, many machines could be combined to meet a specific demand, although this approach may entail unnecessary costs.

There certainly exist many difficulties associated with the use of wind turbines. The compopent parts of the system have not been fully studied. The machines may cause undesired technical and environmental effects. The cost of the installations and the land may not justify the use of wind turbines. The integration of the gencrated electricity with the existing networks or with the specific demanded power present major case-studies. But whatever difficulties are faced, the development of such systems is going on in many parts of the world and is certainly worth a feasibility study in Jordan.

Violations international

This document was prepared by six American academics and made available to officers of the U.S. Congress

THE INVASION of Lehanon by the government of Israel con-stitutes a violation of U.N. Charter Article 2(3), mandating the peaceful settlement of international disputes, as well as the Article 2 (4) prohibition on the threat or use of force in international relations against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state. Despite the assertions of Israeli Prime Minister Begin before the General Assembly, the invasion cannot be excused as a legitimate exercise of the right of self-defence recognised by Article 51 of the Charter and accepted principles of customary international law concerning the use of force.

The PLO is likewise bound hy the Article2(3) and 2(4) ohligations, and the Lebanese goveroment must not allow its territory to be used in a manner violative of international law. Nevertheless, the PLO cannot be held legally responsible for every act of violence perpetrated against Israel that occurs anywhere in the world, but only to the extent that the Israeli government can produce clear and convincing evidence of specific actions sanctioned by the PLO. The evi-dentiary record establishes that during the preceding year, the PLO has in good faith adhered to the terms of the ceasefire applicable to the Lebanese-Israeli border that had been successfully negotiated last summer by President Reagan's special envoy for the crisis. Consequently, the PLO ack" upon Israel as required by Article 51 before the latter can resort to the use of force to defend itself. It is Israel that has "attacked" Lebanon and the PLO in violation of its international legal ohligations.

Even in self-defence

Even assuming the cootemporary international legal order still recognises the regressive doctrine of pre-emptive self-defence, the Israeli invasion of Lebanon fails to meet that test as well. As definitively stated by U.S. Secretary of State Daniel Webster in the case of The Caroline the "necessity of that selfdefence (must be) instant, overwhelming, and leaving no choice of means, and no moment for deliberation". Furthermore, Israel cannot invoke the antiquated doctrines of intervention, protectioo and self-help to justify the invasion, because these were soundly repudiated by a decision of the International Court of Justice in the Corfu Channel Case (1949) as totally incompatible with the proper conduct of international relations in the post-World War II

Three seminal U.N. General Assembly resolutions have firmly established the fundamental proposition that non-consensual military intervention by one state into the territorial domain of another state is prohibited for any reason whatsover: The Declaration on the Inadmissibility of Intervention (1965); The Declaration on Principles of International Law concerning Friendly Relations and Co-operation among States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations (1974). At least the Arah Deterrent Force, composed primarily of Syrian troops, had been stationed in Lebanon with the consent of the Lebanese government and conducted its peacekeeping operations with the approval of the League of Arab States, which is the appropriate regional arrangement under Chapter 8 of the U.N. Charter for sanctioning such activities.

Finally, the Israeli invasion of Lebanon has violated the basic principle of customary int-QICTATIO portionality in the use of force, applicable to even a legitimate exercise of the right to selfdefence. The massive scale of death, destruction, dislocations and suffering inflicted by the Israeli army in Lehanon is egregiously disproportionate to any harm that has been perpetrated upon Israel or to any serious threat to its legitimate national security interests posed by the pre-sence of the PLO in Lebanon.

Prisoners of war The four Geneva Conventions

the conduct of hostilities by Israel in Lebanon. Additional Protocol I (1977) indicates that the members of the PLO who have been captured by the Israeli army should be treated as prisoners of war within the meaning of the Geoeva Acc. ords. At the very minimum, captured members of the PLO and other individuals affiliated with them together with all Lebanese and Palestinian civilians, are entitled to the full panoply of protections set forth in the Fourth Geneva Convention and the customary international law of belligerent occupation. Statements by the Israeli government that captured PLO members will be treated as "terrorists" and thus presumably deprived of their protected status under the Geneva Conventions would, if acted upon, constitute a grave violation of the humanitarian laws of armed conflict that have been universally accepted by all civilised states. As a party to the Geneva Con-ventions of 1949 the United States government has an obligation to respect and to ensure respect for their observance by all other contracting powers. This obligation becomes irresistibly compelling in a situation where Israel has been enabled to invade Lehanon by means of weapons, munitions and supplies provided primarily by the United States government at concessionary rates. To the extent the U.S. government does not prevent Israel from using American weapons in explicit violation of intemational law and of U.S. domestic statutes applicable to arms of 1949 apply in their entirely to arms supply relationship in order to secure the latter's strict obedience to the laws of war and its immediate and unconditional withdrawal from Lebanon as reqnired by U.N. Security Council Resolution 508 (1982) and Resolution 509 (1982), which are legally binding on Israel under Charter Article 25.

Withdrawal of troops

The Israeli government has no right under international law to intervene in the domestic affairs of Lehanon by dictating the terms of some future government as a condition for the withdrawal of its troops. The future of the Lebanese government must be determined by the Lebanese people without interference of compulsion from any external source: The most effective means to ensure the success of this endeavour is. for Israel immediately to withdraw its troops from Lebanon and to turn over evacuated territory to the Lebanese army, where possible, or to the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (UNIFIL). The ultimate disposition of the Arab Deterrent Force should be determined by the League of Arab States in accordance with the wishes of the, Lebanese government expressed after an Israeli military witbdrawal.

The United States must actively oppose any proposals by the Israeli government to establish some type of international police force, in Lebanon that is not under the jurisdiction of the United Nations

Neither Egypt, Israel, the United States, nor Jordan have any right under international law to negotiate on behalf of transfer agreements, it must assume full legal responsibility before the international community for such proscribed activities the United States has an absolute duty to employ the tremendous leverage over Israel afforded by its

the Palestinian people.

Security Council. Israeli charges that UNIFIL cannot be trusted because the U.N. is biased against Israel ohfuscate the face that UNIFIL operates under the auspices of the Security Council (where the United States can, if not under the General Assembly. The evidentiary record clearly establishes that UNIFIL has proven to be quite effective at preventing the large-scale infiltration of PLO fighters across the Israeli-Lebanese border. A renewed and strengthened mandate for UNIFIL will continue to perform this task until the Lebanese army is reconstituted as an effective and independent military force under the control of the central government. In this regard Israel: must also dismantle the Lebanese Christian enclave it has created along the border, whose members have so far illegally resisted the interposition of UNIFIL troops with the collusion of the Israeli government.

Long-term solution

A long-term solution to the problems of Lebanon can only be found when Israel is willing to recognise the international legal right of the Palestinian people to selfdetermination. Neither Egypt, Israel, the United States, nor Jordan have any right under intemational law to negotiate on behalf of the Palestinian people. Both the U.N. General Assembly and the League of Arab States have determined that the PLO is the legitimate representative of the Palestinian people. That determination must be respected by Israel and the United States for the purpose of negotiating an overall settlement on the ultimate disposition of the West Bank, the Gaza Strip and east Jerusalem. Mutual and simultaneous recognition of their respective rights under international law by Israel and the PLO must be the next stage in the development of the Middle East peace process.

Francis A. Boyle (University of Illinois), Richard A. Falk (Princeton University), C. Clyde Ferguson, Jr.(Harvard Law School), Roger Fisher (Harvard Law School), Stanley Hoffmann (Havard University), W. Thomas Mallison (George Washington University).

(The affiliations of the signatories are for identification purpose

From Middle East International

based on lies

Following is an article that appeared recently in the Israeli Ha'aretz.

By Shulamit Har Even

WE ARE told that we engaged in this war because the terrorists shelled the Galilee. The truth is that for eleven months the terrorists adhered strictly to the ceasefire and not one shell fell inside our horders. We, and not they, broke the ceasefire by a massive bombardment of Beirut, after which the terrorists also opened fire, and not one minute carlier.

We are told that there were also various incidents during the ceasefue. In one of these incidents, it is told, we seized a terrorist cell 7 kilometres north of (Kibbutz) Hanita. Seveo kilometres north of Hanita is six kilometres inside of Lebanon. That is not inside of Isr-

Mr. Sharon announced to us on television that, since the sixties, Israel has suffered 1,002 dead as a result of terrorist actions. It is possible that he started his count from the riots of 1936-1939. However, the IDF (Israeli Defence Forces) spokesperson said that in all the terrorist actions in the north since 1967, 106 people have died. A quick survey of the press shows that there had been a notable decline in the casualty figures, with 20 people killed by terrorists in all of Israel in 1980, 17 in 1981, and one in the present year. During the same period (in the past three years) more than 1,200 people were killed in traffic accidents in Israel. As of this writing. the IDFs losses in this war are equal to the potential losses of fifty years of terrorist shelling.

were this to continue.
On the third day of the fighting. Mr. Begin said in the Knesset that it was tsrael's intection to consolidate its position on the line of 40 kilometres from its northern horder and not beyond that line. The prime minister even sent a message in this spirit to the president of the United States. As they say nowadays in the army in bitter mockery: "Don't you tell me how far 40 kilometers are."

Mr. Begin festively announced to the nation that the whole operation would end within 24 hours.

The chief of staff reported, in an interview, that 170 IDF soldiers had been killed. On the same day, at noon, it was already known, and in the Committee on Foreign Affairs and Security as well, that the number had gone beyond 200 killed, and that was still not the end of the story. We are told about Syrian harassment. The truth is that since 1974 there had been not a single shot fired by the Syrians, not even a pistol shot. When Mr. Begin and all the government's spokespersons reported that we are not in Beirut, and that it is not our intectioo to enter Beirut, reporters sent out news reports, mockingly, from non-Beirut and asked, "what is this if not Beirut?" There is not one Knesset member who did not visit this non-Beirut, into which, it goes without saying, we did not

For the first time in the history of the IDF, soldiers (whose names are known to us) phoned to their homes, kibbutzim, and military yeshivot, with the plea: "Do something, stop him!" And these people come from the most select and bravest army units, which are ready to fight but not senselessly.

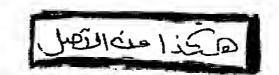

Mr. Sharon said, with the famous tick on his face, that it was the Syrians and not us who broke the ceasefire on the Beirut-Damascus highway. The latest eruption of fighting was, according to all the commentators, unnecessary. For the first time in the history of the IDF, soldiers (whose names are known to us) phoned to their homes, kibbutzim, and military yeshivot, with the plea: "Do something, stop him?" And these people come from the most select and bravest army units, which are ready to fight but not senselessly.

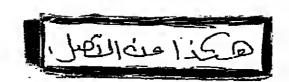

Mr. Begin said in the U.S. that the military mission had been completed and that the IDF has no intention of conquering west Beirut. On the same day, Mr. Sharon said in Lebanoo that the military mission bad not been completed since the terrorists are still in Bei-

We were told that the PLO infrastructure had been destroyed. Tomorrow, or the day after, it will be possible to set up the PLO headquarters elsewhere, and to supply them with arms many times the quantities we took from them.

It is said to us that it is not possible to carry out many social welfare projects in Israel - to rehabilitate our urban neighbourhoods, to close the social gap to properly develop the educational system, because we don't have enough money. This was cost up to now more than $1.5 billion.

Margaret

Dr.

d

Trudeau can hold her head up again

By Paul Majendie

OTTAWA - With cocaine and Hollywood lovers oow only memories, Margaret Trudeau has found a lifestyle she adores -- televisioo chat show hostess and "co-parent" of her three soos with their eminent father down the road. Five years after she left him, Pierre Trudeau's estranged wife doesn't think a divorce is oecessary, praises the Candadian prime minister as a wonderful father and is hereself happily intertwined with an Ottawa busicessman who has three children of his own.

The frenetic jetset life and "Scarlet woman" image have the boys after school every day and returns them to their father in faded hut it has been a real uphill time for homework and perhaps a climb, she confesses. "By the time I left my marriage, I had com-pletely lost my self-respect. I was a swim or a bounce on his trampoline. The parents take it in very hurt and wounded person. I turns to have the children at weethink I've managed to get whole again and it feels wonderful," she told Reuters in an interview. She

After writing two volumes of autobiography, acting briefly in films and dabbling io photography, she has found a niche she likes in television - interviewing everyone from chefs to doctors on a local morning show watched by about 20,000 Ottawa housewives. She would love to do the same on oationwide television hut feels she needs two years' exp-

has just signed on to do another year as hostess on an Ottawa morning televisioo chat show and, ensconced in her own house three streets away from her husband's official residence, can share every day in their childreens' uphringing. Io what must rank as one of the most unusual lifestyles for a

Western leader's family. she has erience first. She says she wants to prove her professionalism to the television industry moguls, "who feel I show signs of being a little hit of a dilettante -- photography, acting, writing books and now TV."

The job was her salvation. "It began my life again for me. Suddenly I wasn't in focus any longer, it was my guests who were and I felt more at ease. I didn't feel I was my on a pederal." The flower up on a pedestal." The flower child of the 1960s dazzled Canada when she married the country's most eligible hachelor, who was almost 30 years older than his 22-year-old bride. But the official life stifled her, the marriage slowly crumbled and she found her every move a well-publicised media

One Canadian newspaper said: "She has, displaying behaviour unusual for the wife of a Canadian prime minister, used drugs, ahused protocol, dropped in and out of motherhood and popped in and out of men's beds." Brief affairs with actors lack Nicholson and Ryan O'Neal were frankly chronicled in her autobiography Consequences and she confessed "my escapades, my drug-taking were no more than outbursts of despair at how profoundly I had failed."

The honesty of her autobiographies won her admirers in Canada after she had been reviled and she says, "I have no problem holding my head up anymore. I did for a while. I felt humiliated. I felt I couldn't go out of my house."

In mid-interview, the children hurst in from school. In a reminder of how security-conscious their parents always have to be, sevenvear-old Micha went off to his weekly judo class with mother asking "make sure you've got your policeman, won't you?"

When father retires from polities to live in Montreal -- he has been prime minister for 14 years -and the children are grown up, she would love to embark on a theatrical acting career.

europcar

rent a car

1982 MODELS AVAILABLE

Europear Offices:

Shepherd Hotel 39197-8 Marriott Hotel 660100 Regency Palace Hotel 660000

HOTELS

 $\xi : \omega_{n,t} \to \mathbb{R}^n$

11.

RESTAURANTS & BARS

MANDARIN CHINESE RESTAURANT AMMAN AND AQABA

Offer typical Chinese Mandarin cuisines and take away For quick lunch: 1 soup 1 main dish, 1 rice 1 tea or soft drink JD 2

Fully airconditioned

Amman

Tel. 661922 P.O. Box 9676 Wadi Sagra Road Near Holiday Inn Hotel

Tel. 4633 P.O. Box 598 Amman Road Near the Main Circle

TOURISMO

Opp. Akilah Matamity Hospital, 3rd Circla, Jabal Amman, Tal. 41093.

Try our special "FLAMING POT" fondue or Peking Duck on your next visit, Take-Away ordars walcome. Welcome & Thank you.

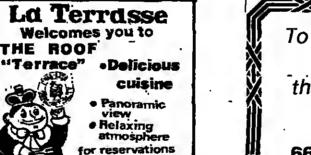

Stop Here Once ... & You'll Come Again Abu Nawwas Bar Happy Hour From 7 to 8 P.m. Drinks half price

Hala Inn Hotel, Jabal Amman Near Khalidi Hospital Tel. 43106, 43856.

RESTAURANT CHINA

The first & best Chinese Restaurant in Jordan Ist Circle, Jabal Amman, near Ahliyyah Girls School

Open daily 12:00 · 3:30 p.m. 6:30 p.m. - Midnight Tel. 38968

Tel.662831

Shmeisani

MISCELLANEOUS

Tel. 42043

AMMAN

INTERCONTINENTAL HOTEL CONTACT LENSE CENTRE EYES EXAMINED CONTACT LENSE SEVEN DAYS A WEEK AMMAN TEL. 42043

SOME THINGS LAST FOREVER

Rosen that studio-linie

Jabal Amman 2nd Circle Tel. 41816

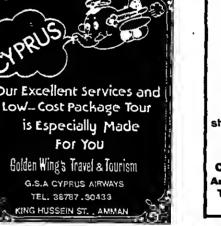

TRANSPORTATION

CROWN INTERNATIONAL WORLDWIDE Specialistsinlocal & international removals

shipping & forwarding (air, land, sea) storage *packing *crating *clearing *door-to-door service CROWN INTERNATIONAL EST. Amman - Jabai Hussein - Firas Circle Tel. 64090, Tix. 22205 BESMCO JO Aqaba Tel. 5778

SHIPPING - TRAVEL & TOURISM AIR FREIGHT -PACKING AMIN KAWAR & SONS Travel & Tourism GENERAL SALES AGENTS FOR: SAS SCANDINAVIAN AIRLINES, THAI AIRWAYS
Tel. 37195, 22324-5-6-7-8-9 Tix. 21212, 21520, 21634

P.O. Box: 7806, AMMAN

AQABA

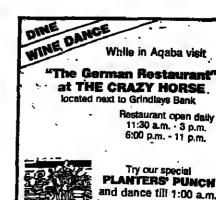

CLEARANCE

AQUAMARINA HOTEL CLUB RED SEA HOLIDAYS

Five days water skiing twice a day including all equipments, half board.

FOR ONLY JD 61.000 THE ONLY PLACE WHERE YOU CAN ENJOY ALL WATER SPORTS ACTIVITIES - FOR MORE INF-ORMATIONS AND RES-ERVATIONS PLEASE DO CALL US: TELS. 4333/4/5/6 TLX: 62249 AQUAMA JO

P.O. Box 347

England, arch rivals W. Germany renew soccer rivalry at Wembley

LONDON (R) — England and arch rivals West Germany have contrasting reasons for seeking success when they renew their soccer rivalry in a friendly at Wembley here Wednesday.

England, under new manager Bobby Robson, will be anxious to wipe out the memory of disappointing performances in the second round of the World Cup finals in Spain and more recently. against Denmark in the European Championship.

The West Germans, with longserving trainer Jupp Derwall at the helm, were runners-up to Italy in the World Cup but returned from Spain with a tarnished image to repair after a sequence of lack-lustre displays.

Robson launched his bid for an England revival by including four uncapped players in his original experimental squad of 22, but the team may be less revolutionary than expected because of injury problems.

Midfielder Bryan Robson has a badly torn grom muscle which compelled the England boss to delay naming his side until later Tuesday and could prevent some of the untried youngsters making their debuts. Manager Robson said: "We are going to miss the strength and experience which Robson gives us, so we may need to readjust in other areas to retain some of those

One of the uncapped youngsters likely to appear is utility player Gary Mabhutt, 21, who has made a considerable impact in his first season with division one Tottenham. England's manager considers he is the ideal replacement for Robson.

With centre half Alvin Martin hopefully recovered from a knee injury, but uncapped winger Mark Chamberlain still hampered by hip trouble, England's new look could be limited to Mabbutt, plus the recall of Martin, fellowdefender Viv Anderson and forward Alan Devonshire.

Manager Robson spent most of the world finals watching West Germany, who he rates the most successful team in the world over the last 10 years, and was particularly impressed by winger Pierre Littbarski.

Robson said: "He seemed to be 60 per cent of their team in the last quarter of the field. They would be bit goal-shy without him." Littbarski could play twice aga-

SIALKOT, Pakistan (R) - The

three-day match between a Pakistan Cricket Control Board XI

and the Australians ended, as expected, in a draw here Tuesday.

declared, Pakistan Board XI 169

Scores: Australia 283 for four

Restaurant

Australians.

PCCB draw

-OPENING SOON-

invites applicants for the following:

1- Captain - 5 years experience

2- Waiters - 3 years experience

Interested persons should contact the personnel manager at L'Olivier Restaurant, next to Orthodox Club, Abdoun, the West German side for the return leg of the 1980-82 European under-21 Championship final in Bremen Tuesday night and is on stand-by for Wembley.

Derwall arrived here Monday with a 14-strong party and put Littbarski, Thomas Allofs and Stefan Engels on call. The West German trainer will contact under-21 manager Berti Vogts after Tuesday night's final and invite two of the trio to come to England.

Wednesday's international will be Derwall's 48th in charge of West Germany during which time he has suffered only five defeats and just one -- to Italy in the World Cup final in July-by European opposition.

England have won 11 of their 18 matches against the West Germans and three draws included a dour 0-0 affair in the second round of the world finals in Madrid in July.

PARIS (R) - The Tour de France, the world's best-known cycle race, will be open to amateurs as well as professionals next year to lure teams from Eastern Europe and overseas, the organisers said

Felix Levitan and Jacques Goddet, unveiling details of next year's three-week marathon, outlined a series of radical changes they hope will breathe new life into the

They told reporters the 1983

tour would be open to amateurs to encourage international interest

by tempting teams from Eastern Europe, the United States, North

Call Tel. 24556/25145

Africa, and South America.

Guan no match for Connors

SYDNEY (R) - Jimmy Connors, 17-year-old winner of this year's demolish young Australian Brad Guan in the Australian Indoor, yed only four matches in the past tennis championships Tuesday.

The American top seed won the first round tie 6-3, 5-0. Guan, from the New South Wales town of Invereil, began well by holding his opening service game. But from then on there was never any. doubt about Connors' superiority.

Connors said on Surday he was suffering from bronchitis but his. game Tuesday was as sharp as Second-seeded John McEnroe also had a straight : crward 6-3, 6-4 win over Australian Rod Frawley, the only hiccup coming when he dropped his service totrail 3-1 in the second set. Patrick Cash, the vorid's top-: ranked junior, staged a great com-

his senior, in an all-Australian first round tie.

led 4-2 in the second. But Cash,

Levitan also confirmed the Tour de France company bad

plans for a "super-tour" every four years between national teams. He suggested the first pany hitherto welcomed only professional, commerciallyctice, the tour will be run entirely inside France, without sections in neighbouring countries such as

Next year's prologue and 22 stages from July 1 to 24 take the riders 3,750 km anticlockwise round the country over a classical.

Belgium or Switzerland.

Tour de France route.

DE LUXE FURNISHED

APARTMENT FOR RENT

Consists of two bedrooms, two specious salons, dining room, two verandas, two bathrooms, with central heating

Location: Jabal Amman, 2nd Circle, the road going downhill by the Lebanese embassy, second street to the right.

In a hreak with previous pra-sponsored teams.

might be beld in 1985. The com-

Amateurs to be included in Tour de France

eback against Phil Dent, 15 years

Wimhledon and U.S. Open Champion, took only 49 minutes to stormed back win 3-6, 7-6, 7-6. Dent said later that he had pla-

five months because of a duodenal

Afterwards McEnroe criticised some of the crowd behaviour and the serving of alcohol to patrons. "I know I've complained about this before but I think it's wrong that the crowd should be served beer two or three hours before my matches," he said. McEnroe also said his loss to Connors in this year's Wimbledon final did not mean he was over the

"I realise people like to have it all so black and white that when you are beaten at Wimbledon your opponent is therefore on top and you are on the way down," he said." But it's not like that in rea-

Because he won Wimbledon Dent appeared to have the Connors deserves to be ranked match well in his grasp when he . number one, but I will be just as took the first set comfortably and 'keen to beat him every time I play

They cycle from Paris straight on to the vicious cobbled roads of the north before heading west and south down to the peaks of the Pyrenees near the Spanish border.

of the massif central as they make for the Alps-the ultimate test with their combination of gru-

Finally they pedal northwards to Paris and the traditional triumphant finale up the grand avenue of the Champs Elysees in the Experts said the race's six time-trials, one for teams and five for individuals, gave French star Bernard Hinault a good chance of winning the tour a fifth time, equ-alling the records of legendary

Belgian Eddy Merckx and Frenchman Jacques Anquetil.

for the line in central Paris.

centre of the capital.

elling climbs and hair-raising des-

They then cross the high ground

Spain's Ballesteros to defend crown against golfs elite

LONDON (R) - Spain's Severiano Ballesteros, who has iscen golf's biggest prizes elude him all year, seeks to redeem his season when he defends his World Matchplay title this week. Ballesteros defends his crown on the opulent Wentworth course against 11 other members of golf's elite, including U.S. Masters Champion Craig Stadler and PGA Champion Ray Floyd.

The Spaniard, winner of the British Open in 1979 and the U.S. Masters in 1980, has won lesser tournaments in Madrid and Paris this year but his touch has generally been less than golden.

He was dogged by similar inconsistency last year until his success at Wentworth which made him the first European to win the tournament since its inauguration in 1964

This season he finished a stroke behind Stadler in the Masters, a distant 13th in both the British Open and the PGA Championship, and missed the halfway cut in the U.S. Open-a fate which also befell him in the Barcelona Open last week.

"The year has been okay, but I expect a little more," he said before the four-day tournament of 36-hole matches which starts on Thursday. bookmakers' second favourite behind Stadier at last month's draw, is one of four players blessed with a bye to Friday's qua-

Stadler, Floyd and Australia's Greg Norman, top money-winner. on the European circuit this season, are the others without a first round match in the £125,000 ($215,000) tournament.

The Spaniard faces the winner of Thursday's first round duel between Japan's leading moneywinner Masahiro Kuramoto and 22-year-old Californian Bobby lampett.

Clampett, who completed his first U.S. tour victory in the Southem Open in Columbus, Geo-, rgia, last month, bas mixed mempries of Britain after sacrificing a five-shot lead in this year's British

Six of the 12-strong field are Americans, and Stadler's quarterfinal opponent is bound to be a U.S. compatriot-either Tom Kite or Curtis Strange, one of the four unseeded players.

Most famous name among the non-seeds is South African champion Gary Player, who has wonthe tournament five times and tees off on Thursday against American Ballesteros, installed as the Lanny Wadkins in his 18th Wentworth matchplay appearance in 19 years. Player and Wadkins are competing for a quarterfinal clash with Norman, who was overwhelmed eight and six by Ballesteros at the same stage of the tournament last

Norman, the 1980 world matcholay champion, has been seeded fourth in the chase for the £35,000 ($60,000) first prize of a tonnament which makes a big physical demand on winners facing 36 holes a day.

PGA Champion Floyd unner-up to Australia's Graham Marsh m 1977, stands by for a second round clash with the two lone Britons, Sandy Lyle and Nick

Faldo qualified by winning the tournament players title in Notngham, England, last month, his first victory in 16 months.

Faldo and Lyle, beaten by Norman in the 1980 final, clashed at the Kenyan Open two years ago when Faldo reported his rival for adhering a piece of tape to his out-ter and Lyle was disqualified. Tom Watson, winner of the U.S. and British Opens, is the most notable absentee.

Williams appeal E. Germany, Scotland to clash in European soccer

GLASGOW (R) - East Ger- not be lost on Celtic and Rangers, many, who have lived in the sha- Glasgow's most famous clubs, dow of West German success on | who have again been overlooked. the soccer puch for a number of years, open their European Championship programme against a Scottish side lacking several familiar faces here Wednesday. think that the axeing of the likes of Kenny Dalglish, Joe Jordan, Danny McGrain and Alan Rough will leave the Scots short of experience.

Manager Jock Stein has named 10 of the 13 who played so well in Scotland's last World Cup match against the Soviet Union to face the East Germans.

Said Stein: "It cannot be bad when I am still able to call on so many of the team which did so well I think will be a good start in this

men in the side--a fact which will chim Streich.

Stein has named 12 players because of a doubt over the fitness of . Tottenham striker Steve Archibald. Paul Sturrook of Dundee United stands by m case Arc-But they would be unwise to hibald fails to recover from a grom

The East Germans, who have brought a squad of 16, had an unhappy time in their World Cup qualifying group and will not look on their most recent match-a 1-0 win over Iceland-with any great satisfaction.

They beat the Scots 1-0 when the two countries last met in East. Berlin in 1977. But when they last clashed in Glasgow three years for us in Spain to get us off to what earlier the Scots scored an emphatic 3-0 win.

The East German squad inc-Aberdeen's Jim Leighton, who ludes seasoned internationals. Hans-Juergen Doerner, Rudi choice goalkeeper, is the only new | Schnuphase, leading league scorer . cap. He is one of three Aberdeen . last season with 19 goals, and Joa-rejected PARIS (R) — A Paris appeal court Tuesday rejected a request by the Williams Formula One motor racing team for the suspension of results in the Brazilian Grand Prix last March.

Williams driver Keke Rosberg of Finland, this year's World Champion, was second behind Brazil's Nelson Piquet in a Brahham, but both were disqualified after a complaint by Renault and Ferrari that their cars weighed too little under Grand Prix rules.

This year Hinault, a master str-Tuesday's ruling against the ategist and outstanding against the British-based Williams team uphclock, clinched his fourth victory eld an earlier judgment by the in five years and won the final appeal tribunal of the Intstage with a breathtaking sprint ernational Automobile Federation (FIA),

FOR SALE

Office furniture only one year old consisting of desks, chairs, photocopier, typewriter, furniture and carpet or reception area. Assorted office sundries.

Please call: Tel. 661729 for appointment to

Two deluxe apartments FOR RENT

Unfurnished or furnished

Each consists of two bedrooms, sitting and dining rooms, independent central heating, separate entrance and telephone.

Location: Opposite The Gardens

Please call Tel: 845722 between 2 and 7 p.m. Dr. Nafez

FURNISHED APARTMENT

FOR RENT

Spacious ground floor furnished apartment with large garden in a beautiful area in Jabal Amman, 3rd Circle. One bedroom, sitting and dining room, fully equipped kitchen, 11/2 bathrooms, colour TV, central heating and sun-lounge that can be used as bedroom.

Call 41340, 8:30 · 11 a.m., 2:30 · 5 p.m.

FOR RENT

A furnished apartment consisting of one bedroom, one sitting room with a terrace and conveniences. The apartment is equipped with telephone and central heating, and is located at Shmeisani, near the Jordan Tower Hotel.

For information, please call telephone 22561 and 669561.

HOUSE FOR RENT

Completely furnished, one bedroom, sitting and living rooms, with telephone. Close to business and transportation, reasonable rent.

Jabal Amman, Al-Buhthuri Street, between 2nd and 1st Circles. For information please call: 24380 or 38502.

READYMIX JORDAN

Announces the commencement of work of its new 36 m, boom pump.

For reservations please contact O. Shaban at 812637.

REQUIRED

A large international bank require officers for immediate appointment. Candidates should be Jordanian nationals and under 32 years of age. Salary and other benefit negotiable according to experience and qua-

Please apply in own handwriting, giving full par-ticulars before Oct. 20, 1982 at following address:

Personnel Manager P.O. Box 7943 Amman - Jordan

THREE DE LUXE & FURNISHED FLATS FOR RENT

One consists of three bedrooms and the others two bedrooms plus sitting and dining rooms.

Location: One in Shmelsani with telephone, one near 5th Circle and the other near 7th Circle.

For details call 665161/62/63

FOR SALE

Flat clearance of household equipment, linen etc., double bedroom suite and 2 single bedroom suites. Indesit dishwasher and baby pram all one year old.

Call: Tel. 844200 or 661729

Almost anything not heavier than 10 kg, not longer than 120 cm in combined length, width and height, not alive, not valuable and not edible can reach the consignee within 30 hours almost anywhere in Europe – if it is a Swissair SPEX parcel. Swissair's SPEX (parcel express service) From there Swissair accepts the responsibilidelivery to the door.

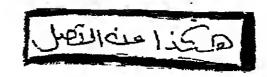

spares you exasperating surprises when you spares you exasperating surprises when you unexpectedly need to get something very important. Ispare parts, samples, plans, contracts, documents, press material, small gifts, and much more that is not subject to transport restrictions) from you overnight within 30 hours after acceptance to some-body in one of 32 European cities. In such cases the shortest way is straight to our SPEN acceptance office in Amman, at Eastern fours & Services, Tel: 33367.

transportation, guaranteeing that your SPEX parcel will reach the consignee in time in 32 European cities and the surrounding areas, in over 15000 localities in the U.S.A. James Device School localitie ity, without prior reservation, for express U.S.A., Lagus, Dar es Salaam; Johannesburg. Singapore and Hong Kong.
No surprises: Swissair takes over issuance of transport documents, export facilities.

continuous supervision of the consignment.

customs clearance, plus, with its associates,

For further information, please contact defend GCC ministers meet today to coordinate oil policies

ALALAH, Oman (R) — Oil misters from Saudi Arabia and ve of its Gulf allies meet here ednesday in an attempt to coolinate petroleum policies that ay have far-reaching conquences for the international arket.

The ministers of Saudi Arabia, uwait, Bahrain, Qatar, the Unid Arab Emirates and Oman are orking in the framework of the z nations' 18-month-old Guif ooperation Council.

The council's defence ministers ave been talking this week in jyadh on a joint defence policy defend the oilfields. A summit the six Gulf monarchies and reikhdoms is being held in Bahim on November 9.

Foreign oil company executives ased in the Middle East say they e the council chiefly as a strtegic pact to bolster the conavailve oil-producing nations of ne Arabian peninsula against thrats they perceive from Israel, an's fundamentalist Islamic revlution and possible subversion as result of Soviet influence in den and Ethiopia. But they add that the six Gulf ountries, suppliers of one-fifth of he West's oil even in the present epressed market, have shared oil iterests that do not necessarily ways coincide with those of the sellers.

'The Saudis prohably find it [] () assier to sit down and talk with their friends outside, the forum of ne Organisation of Petroleum xporting Countries (OPEC) and ithout the Iranians and the Lib--ans," said one oil company exe-

EAST BERLIN (R) — After

ears of relative plenty compared

o their East Bloc neighbours,

East Germans face an autumn of lwindling supplies and a short-ived happy Christmas, according-

Butter is the most pressing sca-city at present, missing for the ast week from even the relatively vell-stocked shops of the capital;

.-- There are still ample stocks of a pecial low-fat butter, of the kind ads are a luxury of the affluent and it is shunned here as second lone for some time -- more com-ortably than almost any of their communist neighbours, with an unual meat consumption of 89.4

illos per head, one of the highest ne letter to each square; to fort

UPPYP

Lifud

REFIHE

SNORPE

Print answer here: AN

THE BETTER HALF

East Germans live - and have

o trade sources.

Two of the Saudis' Gulf allies, Oman and Bahrain, are not in 13-nation OPEC which is torn by ideologically-tinged differences between the Saudi Camp and a bloc of erstwhile pricing militants comprising Iran, Libya, and, to a lesser degree, Algeria. Basically, with 160 billion barrels of oil reserves, the Saudis are concerned about preserving a viahle market for their oil into the 21st century. They also want to protect huge investments of surplus petrodollars in the West.

So their policy has been to try to stop oil prices going high enough to bankrupt the West and stampede it into developing alternative sources of energy.

Others in OPEC, often with less oil and with pressing cash needs, have traditionally favoured higher prices, although oil industry analysts say that Iran and Libya are discounting heavily to sell oil m the prevailing buyers' market.

Most Gulf sellers share the Saudi view on the need to preserve a long-term market for their oil.

Oman, for instance, is a modest producer of only about 300,000 barrels daily—even at current low levels the Sandis pump almost 20 times that volume-but its reserves could last until 2010 at current production rates.

A timely reminder that the West, if goaded too far, is preparing technologies that could enable it to do without oil came . last week when scientists at Texas A and M university reported a breakthrough in research on ohtaining energy-producing hydin the world, and 15.2 kilos of hut-ter a head. Only comparison with the affluence of West Germany is forcing the government to export goods that would normally be consumed at home, in order to get the cash to service an estimated saving, particularly with oil supplies from the Soviet Union expected to be down by I0 per cent

Factories and electricity generating capacity are being converted to run on home-produced

lignite, the brown coal that typifies

East Berlin in winter -- piled high in wooden carts outside apartmeot hlocks, and giving off its distinctive smell from traditional next vear. Il not sooner

By Vinson

Everywhere the emphasis is on

But a shortage of hard currency still burts.

$11 hillion deht.

tiled stoves.

Will you be calling in sick yourself, or should I just

THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME
by Henri Arnold and Rob Lee

WHAT HE SAW FROM THE EIFFEL

TOWER.

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as sug-gested by the above cartoon.

Jumbles: WAGON BROOK GUTTER CORNEA

To make this, the farmer wore a shoe that was too tight—HIS CORN GROW

(Answers tomorrow)

play the tape?"

rogen from water using abundant solar energy.

Market analysts say that if the oil boom had continued, it would have made sense for the gulf producers to go flat out boosting their crude oil production capacities and developing their own refining and oil or gas-based chemicals industries.

But the market outlook is now clouded, with non-communist oil demand down to around 45 million barrels daily and unlikely to return to a 1979 peak of nearer 52 million before the end of the dec-

Recession, conservation and inroads by coal and nuclear power have cut into the market for oil. In this situation, the Gulf states may well decide they can gain from coordinating their expansion as they advance to challenge the major Western oil companies in the "downstream" end of the business-refining crude oil and selling the products, and developing petrochemicals. Among recent examples of Gulf cooperation, the Saudis shelved plans to build an aluminium sme-Iter, using gas as fuel, and opted instead to take a stake in a Bahrain Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Bahrain are jointly spending $1 billion on a plant to process heavy fuel oil into higher grade products. In Western Europe, the European Community Commission is currently frantically trying to spread the burden among member states of the closure of up to 40 per cent of the Commoo Market's ref-

Special bins have been put out in backyards to collect kitchen waste that can be fed to the pigs that provide the country's staple meat. New containers stand on streets with the notice: "We col-

yet directly noticeable in shops,

has made itself felt in the soft drinks industry, where popular domestic cola aod lemon drinks

the summer, withdrawn by order,

according to trade sources, so they can brought back to give an ill-

This summer's warm dry weather resulted in a record grain harvest of over 10 million tonnes, but the lack of rain meant that neither potatoes nor sugar beet will reach

Junge Welt, the official newspaper of the Communist Youth

Organisation, has urged youth brigades working in the fields not to neglect even the tiniest beet or

Meanwhile, restaurant trade

sources said even chicken, avausion of plenty at Christmas.

Raisins, cocoa and almonds all have become scarce.

A shortage of sugar, though not ining capacity.

lect plastic.

E. Germans face dwindling supplies

IEA says oil glut deceptive

PARIS (R) - The International was intended to warm member and to develop nuclear power Energy Agency (IEA) said Tuesday the current world old glut is deceptive and conceals the fact that long-term demand for fuel is on the upswing.

The IEA, which groups 21 oilconsuming countries, said in the first world energy outlook it has issued in five years that oil supply and demand should be equal at between 48 and 50 million barrels per day (b/d) up to 1985, but this stability could be followed by excess demand later in the decade.

It also said energy and oil prices may decrease significantly in real terms, minus the impact of inflation, during the remainder of this year and in 1983. The agency, formed in 1974 as the industrial nations' response to the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Comtries (OPEC), said that unless governments established energy policies aimed at keeping demand under control it could

"With oil prices falling, there is danger that misleading market signals will cause both complacency among energy consumers and hesitation among my-flare up again.

estors," it said. Energy prices have fallen during the past year as demand has receded in the face of a worldwide economic malaise and continued conservation efforts brought about by high prices.

But the agency said that demand could outstrip supplies by up to four million b/d by 1990 and by between 9 and 21 million b/d by the end of the century, basing its forecast on assumed world annual economic growth rates varying between 2.4 and 3.2 per cent during the period.

IEA officials said the outlook

ilable in vast quantities since large hattery farms were set up, may become scarce as a result of over-

Sporadic shortages of meat-occurred in various towns, in spring and summer. But these appear to bave been at least temporarily resolved with the onset on winter and a return to the readily available traditional dishes such as

Berlin pork knuckle and Bocsupplies in the next three months than in the catastrophic period last year, East Germans are showing no enthusiasm for a repeat of last year's "parcels for Poland" cam-tial law in Poland last December,

the East German authorities reversed their policy of ostracising

the Poles and schoolchidren were

Now people joke that the closed told to bring parcels to be sent to their socialist brothers.

going to be like bere."

After the introduction of mar-

With official forecasts from nei-exploitation.

kwurst sausages.

governments against complacency and show that the energy problem would re-emerge once the present recession ended. The report said unpredictable events in the Middle East remained a major risk that could cause another oil shock since industrial countries would continue to remain highly dependent on the area for supplies. The IEA said it assumes that oil output by members of OPEC will grow again to between 27 and 29 million b/d by 1990 but that less oil will he available because of the growing domestic requirements in OPEC and other Third World countries.

The current oil surplus of East European economies is expected to disappear and domestic oil production by industrial nations in the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) is likely to fall from the present 15 million b/d.

The IEA said energy problems have not been solved and called for a strong political commitment by governments to expand the use and supply of coal instead of oil

IEA Executive Director ULF Lantzke told reporters that agency members had made a good start in fighting the energy war since they now used 16 per cent less energy and 26 per cent less oil than m 1973 to produce their goods. "We hope that the same progress will be made in the 1980," Dr. Lantzke said.

In a series of policy suggestions, the IEA said market forces should he allowed to work fully in order to balance supply and demand.

Consumer prices for oil must reflect the world market price, production of domestic non-oil fuels must be encouraged, electricity tariffs should be geared to efficient use and taxes should not hamper energy exploration and production, it said.

Energy efficiency must be tightened further and electricity utilities should try to switch away from oil-fired plants.

Price controls on natural gas must be gradually removed, the report said, to cover its higher cost and to ensure wider use, while coal must be developed as a major alt-

LONDON STOCK MARKET

LONDON (R) - Government bonds extended Monday's gains by around 11/2 points at the long end but equities ended mixed,

Two U.S. banks Tuesday cut their prime rates by a full point while the Bank of England clipped another 1/4 or 5/16 point off its money market intervention rates, thus increasing the pressure on the clearing hanks to further reduce base rates, dealers added,

However, equities met profit-taking and failed to hold early highs. Glaxo was an exception, adding another 55p to 1015 after results Monday. The F.T. index at 1500 Tuesday was up 0.3 at Construction shares were firm on lower mortgage rate hopes, with Barratts ending 8p up at 412 after 415. Discount houses rose in line with government bonds, Union adding 25p to 573 and Clive up 4p at 42 on the interim dividend. The clearing banks were unchanged to 6p higher and insurances were mostly firmer though Eagle Star was unchanged at 313. Allianz Versicherung said Monday it will not increase its stake in Lucas was down 3p at 127 and other engineers traded quietly around overnight levels. South African gold mines were little changed by the close as bullion retreated from early highs.

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES

LONDON (R) - Following are the buying and selling rates for leading world currencies and gold against the dollar at midday on the London foreign exchange and hullion markets Tuesday.

One sterling One U.S. dollar

I.7187/97 1.2267/70 2.4970/80 2.7270/80 2.1255/70

48.49/51 7.0670/0700 1421.00/1422.00 263.50/60 7.3060/90

7.2380/2400 8.g200/50

West German marks Dutch guilders Swiss francs . Belgian francs French francs Italian lire

U.S. dollars

Canadian dollars

Japanese yen

U.S. dollars

border to Poland will be reopened to East Germans for short visits "so we can see what things are

One ounce of gold 438.00/439.00

Swedish crowns Norwegian crowns Danish crowns

Peanuts

potato this year.

normal levels.

Mutt 'n' Jeff

Andy Capp

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 13, 1982

YOUR DAILY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a good opportunity to improve whatever you are doing and can find a new set of conditions under which you can achieve a great amount of success. Be more generous.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Find better ways of gaining more benefits from your daily routines and feel more secure. Engage in favorite bobby tonight. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Express your finest talents now and become more successful in your line of endeavor. Become a more thoughtful person. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan the future more wisely so that you can have greater success in the days ahead. Don't be too forceful with congenials.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Hava a talk with co-workers and find a better way to increase production. Be more understanding of others. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study every phase of your line of endeavor and know just where you are headed. Obtain the data you need from the right sources. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are a perfectionist and this is a fina day to be exactly that in whatever you may be doing. You can accomplish a great deal today. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are able to make a welldesigned plan for the future that could bring much added auccess. Take no riaks with outsiders.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to please your friends more and gain added goodwill, especially those who are loval and helpful to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Confer with some husiness expert and gain the advice you need. Exercise great caution in travel at this time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Gain the support of influential persons and relieve any possible tensions you are under. Express happiness tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study oew outlets that could lead to increased income in the future. Be sure to follow your hunches which are accurate now. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Talk with co-workers about better systems so that you can operate more successfully in the future. Be wise. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one with a fine disposition that will please others, so be sure to give the finest educatioo possible. Teach to be more understanding of others. A good sport in this chart. Be sure to give spiritual training early in life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

. . Banksere through marker

36 Partner of Goddess

Lat

sequence 44 Carnel

taature

49 improvises 51 Hold back

45 Appalla

53 Huffy

card rocket Pretty —

43 Letter

— glance

. T. W. (m. 1971 🗞

THE Daily Crossword By John H. Hales

ACROSS 33 Always, 59 Practical 26 Frankfurter to poets 34 SRO cusviewpoint 63 Compact 27 Gaucho's 28 Citified 65 Expanse 66 Celebes ox 9 Social tomer beginner 38 Tumed on 30 Root or lor short 67 Pretaxt 39 Place for 13 Breathing 68 An award 31 Purola experiments

Take -- the 14 Catchall 41 - de France 70 Preliminary 15 Small, to 42 Give -- try procedure 71 Greek 43 Guessing 17 Not care 72 "-- but the 18 Wet earth A Linder 19 Part of TNT brave....

abbr.

20 Supervision

23 Sinew 24 Certain

26 Tutti-

29 Studio

48 Kubiai Khan's 50 WW II 1 Metric unit 2 Zhivago's principal 52 Small cup 56 Of grand 3 An Arkin Yesterday's Puzzla Solved:

4 Leave 5 Unwanted

6 "- to be born... 7 Street show 8 A Verdugo 9 Put on 10 Cavell and 11 The two 12 Certain 21 Hood'a

DOWN

friend

57 Flectrica measure "I cannot tell —" 60 Division weapons 22 Holiday word 61 Promptly 62 Neck hair symbol 25 Manlo Park 64 Code word

© 1982 Tribuna Company Syndicate, Inc. All Rights Reserved

XE A FUE FOR REN

TD.

no please d

12637.

QUIRED

Italian extremist caught

ROME (R) - Italian police officers were due in Rome from Bolivia Tuesday with right-wing extremisı Picrluigi Pagliai, wanted in connection with a 1980 bombing in which 85 people died.

An interior ministry statement said Pagliai was slightly wounded and captured by Bolivian forces in a gun hattle Monday. He was served with an expulsion order by the newly-elected government of Hernan Siles Zuazo and handed over to Italian officials early Tuesday morning.

Pagliai was arrested on an international warrant on charges arising from the August 1980 bombing of Bologna railway station in which 85 people died.

Another right-wing suspect in the Bologna bombing, Stefano delle Chiaie, was also the subject of an expulsion order from the La Paz authorities but managed to leave the country without being captured, the ministry said.

Pagliai was being escorted to Rome on a requisitioned Alitalia flight expected to arrive here last Tuesday. The tralian DC-10 airliner, diverted to Bolivia from Rio de Janeiro, refuelled in Puerto Rico Tuesday morning on its way authorities after handing himself back to Italy.

Police in La Paz said Pagliai sought refuge in Bolivia two years ago under the right-wing military dictatorship of Gen. Luis Garcia Meza and established links with paramilitary groups and drug traffickers.

The secret mission to arrest him came to light when the DC-10 airliner appeared mysteriously in Bolivia on Sunday. First reports suggested the plane had been hijacked on a flight from Brazil but it later emerged that the airliner was being used in a carefully-planned international police operation.

Italian interior ministry officials said Pagliai, 28, was one of five alleged oeo-fascist urhan guerrillas accused of planting the bomb in the waiting room of Bologna statioo.

The warrants, issued last month, also named two former mercenaries, Frenchman Olivier Danet and West German Joachim Fiebelcorn, as members of the squad responsible for the attack.

Danet is currently in prisoo in France while Fiebelcorn was released oo bail hy the West German over to the police.

Pagliai fled Italy in 1976 under suspicion of complicity in a neofascist bombing in Brescia. He was later convicted in his absence but

Argentine woman and lived in Argentina and Bolivia under 3 false name, working with the secret services of the former rightwing Bolivian military gov-

Airport sources in La Paz said the airliner touched down early on Suoday after the crew radioed that picion because a large number of foreign airliners had hrought digoitories to La Paz for the president.

Problems of youth form major theme for Brezhnev

MOSCOW (R) - President Leonid Brezhnev Tuesday accused the .West of waging a "psychological war" against the Soviet bloc and called for stepped-up efforts to instil Communist views among

Mr. Brezhnev said in a message to a conference of party ideologists that improved political propaganda was vital because "imperialism has in effect gone over to a psychological war against the USSR and other Socialist cou-

The cooference, in the Baltic port of Tallinn, has been summoned to discuss "the sharpening of the ideological struggle in the world arena and the political education of the workers".

Mr. Brezhnev's message, published on the front page of the Communist Party daily Pravda, called for more thorough ideological indoctrination and better information on domestic and for-

Clearly indicating that the attitudes of Soviet youth would be a major theme of the conference, he said no efforts should be spared to make sure young people acquired "our scientific world view."

Mr. Brezhnev's message used "imperialist reaction" of spreading hes about the Communist system and Soviet foreign policy in order to justify an arms race launched by the United States and

Mr. Brezhnev did not mention President Reagan directly. But the Soviet press has accused the U.S. president of launching a crusade against Communism in a speech to the British parliament in London this summer.

Mr. Brezhnev said the Tallinn conference should help "unmask the inhuman esseose of the ideology and policy of cootemporary imperialism." The cooference follows increasing signs of Kremlin concern that old-fashioned political indoctrination is becoming young people. Worries about the younger geoeratioo have beeo particularly evident since the start of political unrest in Poland two years ago and have been reinforced by the deterioration of relations with the ineffective, particularly among

Peking's crackdown picks up

PEKING (R) — The Chinese Communist Party's latest anticorruption drive gained momentum Tuesday as two trade off-icials were jailed for taking bribes in Switzerland and the authorities moved against the abuse of public bousing.

The China Daily said the two officials were given sentences of three and four years in the southwest province of Sichuan for embezzliog 20,000 yuan ($10,000) through false invoices and inflated expense claims, and for taking 17 watches in bribes last

Meanwhile, the People's Daily said the party had ordered disciplinary action against some party officials who misappropriated public housing for private use.

Arab envoys deplore attack were injured.

The amhassadors, in their statement issued Mooday night, off-ered condolences for the family of the two-year-old boy who died in

Surgeoos operated Monday on

Police said the five men who

Rome's Communist mayor, Ugo Vetere, denounced aotisemitism in a speech at an openair rally called by Italy's trade unions to protest against the attack, but affirmed his right to criticise Israeli government policies in the lined an invitation to attend the rally, which followed a two-hour strike in the city held as a mark of solidarity with the victims of the attack.

GOREN BRIDGE

BY CHARLES GOREN © 1982 Tribune Company Syndicate, Inc.

Neither vulnerable. West

NORTH + Q432 ♥864

0 KQ +J98 ♥ 10932 ♥KQ75 ♦9875 OA 1043

4765 SOUTH ◆ K 1065 VAJ ◇J62

4 AK 102 The hidding: West North East South Pass Pass 1 NT Pass 2 + Pass 2 + 4 + Pass Pass Pags

Pagg Opening lead: King of ∇ .

Hnw would you play the trump suit in today'a hand? Strange as it might seem, the answer to that lies elsewhere in the hand.

The auction was routine. North used the Stayman Coovention to locate a 4-4 spade fit, and then made the value raise to game.

West led the king of hearts, and wheo dummy appeared, declarer saw that there was no way to avoid losing a trick in each red auit - the duplication of values in the minor suits was unfortunate. So declarer had to hold his trump losers to one if he was to fulfill his contract. If you take the trump suit in isolation, the perceotage play would be to finesse East for the jack of spades. But you have to consider the hand as a whole. The key to success here is oot wbo bolds the jack of spades, hut wbo holds the ace of diamnodsl Declarer woo the king of hearts with the ace and immediately led a diamond. West woo the ace, cashed the queeo of hearts and continued with the suit. Declarer ruffed, crossed to the queeo of diamoods and led a spade to the king. When that held, he continued with a low spade, which he ducked in dummy. East woo the ace, and declarer was home.

Wby did South adopt anch an aoti-perceotage line in his play of the trump snit? West bad already shown up with the king-queen of bearts and ace of diamoods. If be had the ace of spades as well, he would have npened the bidding. Therefore, East is marked with the ace and he is more likely to hold A-x or A-x-x in trumps tban specifically A-J-x. What if East has the ace of diamoods? Now either defender could hold the ace of trumps, so declarer should take the percentage play of finessing the ten of spades in the hope that East has the acquitted in appeal court hearings.

Officials said he married an they had technical difficulties.

Its presence did not arouse susswearing-in that day of the new

At the same time, in the eastern Bolivian city of Santa Cruz, police arrested Pagliai in a gun battle. Hospital sources said he was seriously wounded in the oeck and back and there was no explanation for the discrepancy in the ftalian versioo which said he was slightly on synagogue

ROME (R) — Arab ambassadors to Italy have issued a statement deploring last Saturday's attack oo a Rome synagogue in which a small boy was killed and 34 people

The council of Arab ambassadors condemned "the act of terrorism committed against the Jewish synagogue, which caused victims among innocent civilians as they performed their religious duties."

the attack and sympathy for the injured and their families.

the four-year-old brother of the dead child to remove grenade fragmeots from his head and said his condition was still critical.

took part in the attack were almost certainly foreigners. Detectives were comparing identity pictures of two of them with photographs issued by French police after a similar attack in Paris earlier this

Middle East.

Jewisb community leaders dec-

Bolivia shakes up the military

LA PAZ (R) - Bolivia's new civilian presideot, Hernan Siles Zuazo, has replaced the entire military high command in a clear attempt to subject the armed forces to the country's new democratic government.

Government sources said the president made the changes within hours of assuming office as the first constitutionally elected head of state since a military coup two years ago. Dr. Siles Zuazo, 69-year-old leader of the left-wing democratic and popular unity (UDP) coalition, was the winner of free elections in 1978, 1979 and f 980 but was kept from power by the armed

The military finally stepped down after successive juntas and presideots failed to avert the collapse of the economy and appease political and labour opposition.

The new military commanders, regarded as supporters of democracy, would be sworn in later, the sources said.

Political sources said the president's immediate use of his right to appoint the military high command demonstrated a clear determination to impose discipline on the armed forces.

It also reflected the new government's belief that most officers were sympathetic to democracy and a return to barracks, the sources said. The move boldly defied a war-oing last week by the outgoing president, Gen. Guido Vildoso, that the military would not accept meddling in their affairs by civ-

Mary Rose to be put Colourless Suzuki ends on display by spring

PORTSMOUTH, England (R)— The Tudor warship Mary Rose, raised from the seabed after more than four centuries, is now back in Portsmouth harbour -- the site of its construction in 1510.

Lifting the remains of the ancient oak bull from Soleot Bay Mooday capped 17 years of scarch, excavation and salvage hegun by a small team of amateur divers and completed at a cost of £4 millioo ($7 million).

A marathon live television broadcast of the recovery operation kept Britons in awe throughout most of Mooday. At one stage, hearts skipped a beat when a giant steel lifting cradle partially collapsed and appeared in danger of crushing the precious timbers. Back in Portsmouth harbour, the wreck is now being constantly sprayed with water to keep its timbers from drying out too qui-ckly. It is boped to have the ship on public display oext spring, alo-ogside the Victory, Lord Nelson's flagship of 1805. Most of the port side of the Mary Rose has rotted away over the centuries hut the entire 40 metre keel and all of the starboard side are virtually as they were wheo the ship sank with 700 oo board on its way to fight the Freoch in 1545.

When it is put on display, the ship will be raised upright on its keel, planking and artifacts will be replaced and the whole 13-metre high structure will stand as though sliced opeo along its centre to show a complete picture of shiphoard life in Tudor times,

Historians consider the wreck a priceless sources of information about Tudor times and the early years of the navy which, in the centuries that followed, woo command of the world's seas.

The Mary Rose was the first English warship on which heavy cannon were mounted at lines of gunports low down on the hull, a development which enabled ships to fire massive broadsides against an enemy.

King Henry VIII watched from the shore on July 19 1545 when the 600-too ship, the flower of his fleet, sailed into battle against French invaders, foundered and sank two kilometers off Portsmouth, drowning almost all the 600 on board. When the ship was lifted, it was a personal momeot of triumph for Alexaoder McKee, an amateur diver who began the search for the Mary Rose in 1965. "It's absolutely tremendous - a boyhood dream come true. It's ooe of the biggest moments in British archaeology this ceotury." he McKee proved in 1970 that the great warship had sunk, listing heavily, and the starboard side was preserved in the silt complete with guns, stores, tackle and the bones and possessions of many of The port side of the ship, uppermost as the ship settled into the mud, remained unburried and was destroyed by rot, tide and marine life. But half the ship remained under the mud. Prince Charles, who dived to the excavated wreck 10 separate times and saw it before its deck planking and contents were carefully removed, once remarked that it had seemed like a doll's house opened up oo ooe side to show the interior.

Argentine desaparecidos remain major public issue

By Douglas Grant Mine

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (A.P.) — Argentina's military rulers are letting it be known that agitation about "disappeared people" could disrupt the transition to civilian rule, scheduled for March

Interior Minister Guillermo Reston, who is in charge of the police and relations with civilian political leaders, said recently that the "desaparecidos" are "irreparable losses." He said there was no solution to the problem of the missing, that any attempt to lay blame would jeopardise the natioo and would not

The desparecidos, who number between 6,000 and 15,000, are people about whom nothing has been heard since their detentions during the mid 1970s. Their disappearances usually began with seizure by armed men identifying themselves as police of military off-Military leaders have been implicated in large scale kidnapping. torture and murder in reports by organisations such as Amnesty International and commissions from the Organisation of American States (OAS) and the United States Congress. Mr. Reston admitted "the death of innocents" in some cases, but said they were an inevitable wound left by the security force's fight against leftist commandos. The rebels were effectively wiped out by the eod of 1978, two years after the military ousted President Isabel Peroo. The disappearances came to a virtual halt by the end of 1979.

"This objective, (democracy), which the armed forces share with the immense majority of the citizenry, cannot be achieved at the cost of sacrificing the peace, security and order," Mr. Restoo said in a recent speech to the governors of Argentina's 21 provinces. But Nora Cortinas demands justice. Her 25-year-old soo Carlos was takeo from their Bucoos Aires home m April 1977. "I am not going to be satisfied with a cemetery plot to pray at. My soo was taken away alive and I want him back that way. If he's missing so much as a single tooth, somebody's going to answer for it,"

The mothers of Plaza de Mayo .

She is one of the mothers of the Plaza de Mayo, a group organised in 1977. They gather in the city's main square every Thursday and, distinguished by white scarves oo their heads, march in a sileot vigil for their missing sons and daughters. For three years the women were regularly dragged off the plaza and thrown into paddy wagons. Thirteen of them, including the former president of the group

Now they suffer threatening telephone calls. Menacing posters terming them "mothers of terrorists" have been put up oear their

Mr. Restoo told the governors there were no clandestine jails in Argentina as the mothers and local human rights groups claim. The junta issued a communique last mooth citing "a growing campaign, carried out by individuals and groups, reported by some media, questioning the actions of the armed forces and police in their fight against terrorist delinquency." For the record, the junta said, all repression of the terrorists was carried out according to plans approved by the high commands and all steps would be taken to protect the armed forces from "false declarations ... or other tendeotious public accusations." The regime has been stung by the eagerness of some local newspaper and magazine editors, encouraged by the transitionto-democracy climate, to publish stories on the previously taboo subjects of the missing and government corruption. Sources within the government-run radio and television stations told the Associated Press the Directors of those state media have been ordered not to touch any topics that might besmirch the reg-The mothers have received little overt public support in their campaign. But their eause has been taken up at oewly authorised The generals have been obliged to listen to thousands of citizens shout in unison demands for information oo the missing. President Gen. Reynaldo Bignone has promised to coosult closely with civilian leaders during the transitioo. He talks of "concerting" democracy with the politicians, reaching accords on issues such as the missing people. But Deolindo Bittel, leader of the Peronist Party -: the oatioo's largest - said the military could not cooditioo the return to civilian rule oo such agreemeots. Carlos Contin, president of the secood largest group - the Radical Party -- expressed a similar sentiment last week.

"It is one thing to talk about democratising the country and another to speak of accords, which we would have to talk about for a long time. Such accords cannot become previous conditions for a return to (democratic) institutions."

brief career as premier

TOKYO (R) — Mild-mannered Zenko Suzuki, a believer in compromise and harmony, made no major personal impact oo Japanese politics during his 27 months as prime minister.

Associates say it was typical of the man that he came to power as a compromise candidate and gave up when he proved unable to unite the ruling Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) behind him.

Bland to the point of being considered colourless, Mr. Suzuki was scarcely regarded as a serious coutender for the post of prime minister until the office was bestowed on him in July 1980. Uolike most of his predecessors, he was not educated at an elite Japanese university and airs and trade. Mg. Suzuki, 71, is a stout, short and alding man whose main political skills lie in deft negotiating never held any of the senior cabinet posts of finance, foreign afftechniques. As agriculture minister he dealt accessfully with the Soviet Union in delicate fisheries talks. And in 1972 he played an important backstage role in persuading Liberal Democratic members of parliament to support Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka's drive to restore diplomatic ties with China.

He was the Liberals' Democcass choice after the sudden death in office of Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira on June 12,

Then he found himself presiding over a decline in party popularity and a slowdown in the economy. A lacklustre public speaker, he gave the impression that he was unable to tackle these problems decisively.

No personal charm

Political associates say be lacked both the personal authority and the powers of persuasion to quell rising criticism of his performance within the ruling party.

His first moves after taking office included forming a broadbased cabinet, giving priority to Japan's defence spending in the annual budget, and initiating moves to improve relations with the Sovier Unioo after two years of strain.

At the same time, he pledged that Japanese diplomacy would retain relations with the United States as the cornerstone of its foreign policy, while cementing good links with China.

He also sent Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ito on a trip to various Asian countries to explain his policies, and discuss increased aid for nations - especially in South-East Asia and oo the Indian Sub-Continent -- near areas of Communist-inspired conflict.

One of his few cootroversial acts occurred in 1980 when he and a record 18 cabinet ministers visited the Yasykuni shrine in Tokyo on the anniversary of Japan's surreoder to the allied forces in 1945.

'Israelis in West Bank can live under Arab rule'

TEL AVIV (Agencies) - Israeli for the right of Jews to live and Labour Party leader Shimon Peres has said that Jewish settlements in the West Bank could remain "part and parcel of Jordan" in the peace plan supported by the Labour-Mapam Alignment.

Speaking to a group of 40 American executives visiting Israel under Israel Bonds auspices last weekend, Mr. Peres said, "As there are Arab settlements under non-Arab administration, so there gould be Jewish settlements under non-Jewisb sovereignty." Mr. Peres stressed his support rule.

settle in the West Bank. He said "it would be extremely unreasonable to think that a Jewisb government would agree that everybody has a right to live in the West Bank but the Jewish peo-Mr. Peres said that two basic conditions in a settlement of the Palestinian problem must be the continued development of the IDF aloog the Jordan River and the demilitarisation of any areas of the West Bank returned to Arab

New Delhi orders inquiry into Monday's 4 deaths

NEW DELHI (R) - The Indian lence and an official said a stagovernment is expected to come under fresh pressure to try to end Sikh unrest in the oorthern state of Puniab after rioting here in which four Sikhs were shot dead by pol-demoostrators, some of them wielding swords, rampaged through the streets outside the parliament huilding Mooday, burling stooes and burning vehicles. Police said they opened fire as a last resort wheo the demonstrators tried to storm parliameot, killing four and wounding five. More than 50 police were injured in the clashes. Most of the demonstrators came from the rich farming state of Punjah, which has been gripped by political and religious unrest for several months. The state is home for the vast majority of India's 11 millioo

Sikhs and the unrest centres on a wide range of Sikh demands, including one for an independent Sikh state. The demonstrators Monday were seeking a judicial inquiry into the deaths of 31 Sikh political workers, killed in Punjah last month when a train crashed into a bus taking them to jail for defying a ban on demonstrations. The government has ordered a temeot would be made in parliament Tuesday.

Former Deputy Prime Minister Jagjivan Ram said that the government should open a dialogue with leaders of the Sikh Akali Dal Party to try to settle some of their Huodreds of turbanned Sikh more reasonable demands and save Punjab from plunging into turmoil.

Now, in the wake of the latest violence, there are expected to be more opposition demands for government action. The Akali Dal wields considerable influence in Punjab, which it has ruled several times. It was ousted in 1980 when Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's Congress (I) party woo the state elections.

Since this defeat the Akali Dal has split into two main factions. Both are pressing the government in New Delhi to institute religious, political, economic and cultural reforms for the Sikhs.

The leader of one of the groups, Jagdev Singh Talwandi, whose supporters took part in Monday's demonstration, has also demanded a separate homeland for the Sikhs and associate membership of the Uoited Nations.

The chief minister of Punjab. Darbara Singh, who escaped a bomb attack last month, bas said the demand for an independent judicial inquiry into Mooday's vio- Sikh state is unacceptable.

Kashoggi's brother escapes robbery attempt in Britain

LONDON (A.P.) — Essam Kha-shoggi, brother of Saudi Arabian multimillionaire Adnan Khashoggi, escaped an armed robbery attempt Sunday as he rode to London's Heathrow airport in a chauffeured limousine, Scotland Yard said. The bold-up failed and no one was burt, a Yard spokesman said.

He said three men -- one armed with what appeared to be a sawed off shotgun — erected a malausität roadblottk with two stoletischicles and transfer the shotgers Rolls-Royce at a function in Unbridge, about 26 kilometres northwest of London. Khashoggi's wife, Laila, and an unidentified child were in the car at the time. Press Association, the British domestic news agency, said Khashoggi's chauffeur rammed one of the stolen vehicles, spun around in the road and sped off. But the Scotland Yard spokesman said he could not confirm that report. The chauffeur returned to Khashogges mansion in Iver Heath, Buckinghamshire, where police were called. · The Yard spokesman said pol-ice were treating the incident as a robbery, rather than a possible kidnap or assassination attempt. Kurtural Was Iran provided by five parable and the Heathern Khashoggi's brother, Adnan, an international arms dealer known as "Mr. fix-it," is reputed to be among the world's richest men. His British-born ex-wife, Soraya, lost a $2.4 billion divorce action against him last year in Los Ang-

NEWS BRIEF

Dutch police alert after Amsterdam riot

AMSTERDAM (R) — Emergency laws giving police extra powers of arxest remained in force here Tuesday after rioting which the authorities described as the worst in the Dutch capital for over two years. Council workers and shopkeepers spent the early morning clearing up the debris after pitched battles between 700 riot police and more than 1,000 demonstrators, which began when police evicted squatters from a building Monday.

3-day U.S. railcar siege ends

a di Santa d

RALEIGH. North Carolina (R) - A Colombian besieged by police for almost three days in a rail sleeping car surrendered and was charged with murdering his sister and baby nephew on the train. Police said that the man, who gave his name as Mario Rodriguez, had a machine-gun and pistol.

Mubarak in Sudan

CAIRO (R) — Egyptian Pre- pe hill sident Hosni Mubarak flew to a photo Khartoum Tuesday to sign an agrcement on political and economic integration with Sudanese President Jaafar Numeiri. The accord is aimed at enhancing Egyptian-Sudanese cooperation, said to have been hindered by lack to funds and bureaucracy.

Salvadorean rebels: move against army

S147:1

- 100

t with me

700 400

A 12.15

grad is

______ Մա

El terr

ad in .

March 1991

e lock

J 44 11

a Pak

SAN SALVADOR (R) — Left-wing guerrillas, in their biggest thrust for months, captured two northern towns and attacked army positions in central El Salvador in heavy fighting over the past 48 hours, military sources said. First casualty reports were fragmentary but the sources said some 34 rebels and 10 troops had been killed - " ["ki since the weekend. In the north, some 700 guerrillas overran the towns of Las Vueltas and Jicaro near the Honduran border and sent government troops fleeing.

Ecevit acquitted

ANKARA (R) — Former Prime Minister Bulent Ecevit was acquitted by a military court Tuesday. of denigrating Turkey's image abroad. But Mr. Ecevit was not freed as he is still serving a jail term for a separate but similar Total charge brought against him earlier this year.

3 Sicilians charged in Chiesa case

PALERMO, Sicily (R) — Police & har have charged three men with taking part in the killing last month of Gen. Carlo Alberto dalla Chiesa, his wife and their police escort. Another man, Nicola Alvaro, has Another man, Nicola Calvary, already been charged with taking part in the ambush-killing here of the Palermo prefect.

Malaysian minister on trial for murder

KUALA LUMPUR (R) - A Malaysian cabinet minister went on trial Tuesday charged with murdering a political rival by shooting him three times at pointblank range. Culture, Youth and Sports Minister Datuk Mokhtar. Hashim and three co-accused pleaded not guilty to killing Datuk Mohammad Taha Talib, 55, speaker of the assembly, in April.

White Zimbabwean M.P. put on trial

HARARE (R) — A white Zimbabwaan member of parliament went on trial Monday accused of plotting against the government of Prime Minister Robert Mugabe. Wally Stuttaford, who was defained last December under emergency regulations, pleaded not guilty to a charge under the country's preservation of constitutional government act.

هكذا منه النصل